Woman Doctor Tells of Alert To Thalidomide

Probing Solon Blames
Faulty Exchange of Data on Dreaded Drug

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Frances O. Kelsey of the Food and Drug Administration testified today she was alerted by chance to the potential danger of a German tranquilizer blamed for deformities in thousands of babies.

She put up the roadblock that prevented wide commercial distribution in this country.

Dr. Kelsey's testimony before a Senate subcommittee, along with that of FDA Commissioner George P. Larrick, brought suggestions from senators for establishment of machinery for better international exchange of drug information.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., chairman of the Government Operations subcommittee, said "surface evidence indicates a lag in, if not a total lack of, communication" about the side effects of the German drug thalidomide.

The tranquilizer has been blamed for the birth of several thousand malformed babies in West Germany and other countries after being taken by pregnant women.

However, Larrick testified that the FDA has not found "any deformed infants associated with the testing programs sponsored by U.S. firms."

The drug was not released by the FDA for commercial distribution in this country, but Larrick said it was supplied by four subsidiaries of Richardson, Merrell, Inc., New York, to experts for use

Girl Emerges From Sleep of 13 Months

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—"Hi daddy."

Those were the first words of a 16-year-old sleeping beauty, Linda Sue Calvert, when she woke up from a 13-month sleep.

Linda, of Houston, Tex., was critically injured in an automobile accident last year on Father's Day. She had been in a coma since June 18, 1961.

She and her mother, Mrs. Harvey Calvert, were visiting Mrs. Calvert's parents in Pine Bluff and decided to return home a day earlier than planned, to surprise Linda's father.

On a curve about 17 miles south of Shreveport, La., their car and a large oil transport truck collided during a rainstorm.

Linda's mother and an aunt were killed.

Linda was taken to a Shreveport hospital. Twenty-four days later she was moved to the Texas Medical Center at the Methodist Hospital in Houston. A blood clot was removed from her brain, but she remained unconscious.

About a month ago, Linda was brought to a Pine Bluff hospital, where friends and relatives visited her regularly.

Finally, after 13 months of giving no sign she recognized anyone, she awoke a week ago and said, "Hi Daddy."

She has now learned to speak several words at a time.

"Of course, there is no guarantee that she'll ever be completely well, but we can still hope and pray," her father said.

Overdue Library Book

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—A chagrined housewife appeared at Oak Ridge Public Library—book in one hand and an overdue notice from the library in the other.

"This is truly embarrassing," she explained. "My husband has been trying to remember to return this book for weeks. I'm afraid the book really didn't do much good!"

The title of the book? "Techniques for Efficient Remembering."

New Test Ban Bid To Russia Talked

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials are reported considering a new bid to Russia designed to break the cycle of American and Soviet nuclear weapons testing.

One proposal reported under serious study would call for a ban on tests which cause radioactive fallout, meaning tests in the atmosphere and under water. These can be detected at great distances.

Such a ban could be policed with present scientific instruments without the necessity of setting up new, international inspection procedures inside the Soviet Union and the territory of other nuclear powers.

Tax Revision Bill Offered

Committee Version
Disliked by Byrd

WASHINGTON (AP)—After weeks of hearings, the Senate Finance Committee has approved a mauling version of President Kennedy's tax revision bill. But Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said he would carry to the floor his fight against its key provision.

The Virginian said today he would try to knock out the investment credit provision, designed as an incentive to American business to modernize its machinery and equipment.

Byrd plans to use as one of his main arguments the contention that the bill as it cleared the committee will cost the Treasury an estimated $750 million a year.

As it passed the House, the bill was figured to provide a $120 million surplus.

Byrd passed his vote as the committee approved the bill 9-2 Tuesday after struggling with it through hearings and executive sessions since April 2.

Administration Senate leaders have said they may hold up the tax measure until the President decides whether to seek a cut in personal income tax rates this session.

Byrd succeeded during his committee's consideration of the bill in knocking out the biggest revenue-producing provision in it—a tax withholding plan on dividends and interest.

The Treasury had estimated this would pick up at least $650 million in taxes.

The administration's chances of restoring this on the floor appeared slim.

The committee also softened the President's proposals to tighten up on the expense account deductions and to increase levies sharply on foreign incomes of U.S. corporations. Kennedy's backers believe they have a chance to win stiffer provisions in a floor fight.

Algeria Chiefs Hint Accord

ALGIERS (AP)—Three of Algeria's feuding politicians—one just back from military arrest—conferred today in the former French administrative headquarters in an effort to patch up their dispute.

Deputy Premier Mohammed Boudiaf, released by guerrilla troops who had held him in eastern Algeria for 24 hours, joined Deputy Premier Belkacem Krim to meet Mohammed Khider, a special envoy of dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella.

They talked for three hours in what Khider called an atmosphere of "understanding, serenity and fraternity" and emerged beaming. They hinted the political crisis was coming to an end.

Davis Demons Set For Two Fair Shows

The Davis Demons, popular Circleville Drum Corps unit, has scheduled two appearances at the Pickaway County Fair.

The drum specialists, all local talent, will perform Thursday and Saturday in the Grandstand area. The precision exercises will start at 7:30 both evenings.

John Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis, heads the unit. Other members are Larry E. Eppard, Granville Jones, Ed Evans, Brandon Hawkes, Mike Lorentz, Mike O'Donnell, Robert Stout and Donald Phifer.

Brian Bell serves as drum major. The fast-moving corps has been practicing most of the summer.

test policy conferences for late this afternoon at the White House. He will go into that meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other top policy advisers immediately after his news conference.

The meeting was expected to produce decisions on U.S. moves in the nuclear test negotiations being carried on at the 17-nation Geneva disarmament conference.

The United States has substantially completed its series of atmospheric and high altitude tests over the central Pacific which began last spring. Underground tests begun earlier have been continued in Nevada.

The Soviet government, which resumed testing late last year after a worldwide moratorium of almost three years, has announced its intention to hold a new round of nuclear experiments.

Policy problems before the President and his advisers were authoritatively reported to fall into two groups.

First there are the problems growing out of new scientific advances in the detection and identification of underground nuclear explosions such as would be prohibited by a treaty ban on all nuclear weapons tests.

The United States is expected to present the new scientific data at the disarmament conference and find out whether Russia will agree to negotiate on an inspection on Soviet territory. The Soviet Union has opposed such inspection.

The other problems grow out of this Soviet rejection of inspection proposals. A general review of U.S. policy has led some officials to ask whether it would not be advisable to try for a partial test ban if a total treaty prohibition continues to prove unobtainable.

38 Persons Said Given Thalidomide

NEW YORK (AP)—The City Health Department says it has obtained the names of 38 persons, at least 17 from outside the city, who were issued thalidomide pills by a dozen doctors here. None was publicly identified.

One of the persons lives in Canton, Ohio; another is from Columbus, Ohio.

The department said Tuesday it had located one woman in her 50s who still had 14 of the suspected child-deforming pills. Another woman, in her 70s, had used a small amount of the pills but has none left, the department said.

Ten of the persons who were given the drug are patients of Dr. Richard H. Hoffman, a Park Avenue psychiatrist. One of those patients subsequently gave birth to a deformed child which lived only about 40 minutes. Nine of the Hoffmann patients lived in New York, but one has moved, and the 10th is the one now living in Canton, Ohio.

The other 28 names were given to the department by some dozen New York doctors who received the drug for experimental usage.

Of the 28, 12 lived in this city and 16 were from outside the city including the Columbus man. The department was able to immediately contact only 5 of the 12 New Yorkers.

Monkeys, Hamsters Take Balloon Ride

MOFFETT FIELD, Calif. (AP)—The United States launched a huge balloon today with two monkeys and two hamsters aboard in an effort to determine the effects of cosmic rays on the animals.

A spokesman at the Ames Research Center here said the 380-foot high balloon carried a 450-pound payload on a planned 54-hour flight from Goose Bay, Labrador, to Edmonton, Alberta.

The balloon is the second in a proposed series of four launchings that are expected to provide basic research on radiation problems applicable to manned space flight.

The payload contained three separate capsule which were to be exposed to about 50 per cent of primary cosmic radiation at 128,000 feet altitude.

Grand Theater Demolition Starts Today

Wrecking bars and sledge hammers were put to use this morning as the demolition of the Grand Theater got under way.

Walter Garner, assistant vice president of The Savings Bank, announced today that contracts were awarded early this morning for leveling of the old building. Work crews started tearing down the building shortly after contracts were signed.

Dr. John Bowers was awarded the contract and according to Garner subcontracts were let to the McFarland Construction Co.

The old Opera House, constructed here in 1888, is being torn down to make way for drive-in banking facilities of The Savings Bank. Customer parking will also be provided at the new location, Garner added.

"THE N. Court and Pinckney Street location will house drive-in banking services only," Garner stated. Other banking services will be maintained at the present location.

The contract calls for all work to be completed in five weeks from today. Construction of the new building will begin immediately after the old building is leveled, Garner said.

Preliminary plans for the new building are to be ready within a week. An architect's drawing of the drive-in bank is to be available soon, Garner concluded.

Hiroshima Anniversary To Be Noted by March

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The 17th anniversary of the dropping on Hiroshima of a U.S. atomic bomb will be observed Sunday by a nine-mile peace walk in downtown San Francisco sponsored by the Bay area chapter of Women for Peace.

The walk will border an area equivalent to the 4.7 square miles destroyed by the blast and fire when the United States dropped the first atomic bomb used in warfare on Aug. 6, 1945.

King and Queen Presentation 22 Aluminum Plants Shut By Walkout

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A dispute over automation led to a strike by about 16,000 workers today against the nation's two largest producers of aluminum.

The CIO Aluminum Workers International Union began picketing 10 Aluminum Co. of America plants and 12 Reynolds Aluminum plants at about 12:30 a. m.

The Alcoa plants are at Chillicothe, Ohio, Lancaster, Pa., Cresona, Pa., Warrick, Ind., Lafayette, Ind., Davenport, Iowa, Massena, N.Y., and Sheffield, Ala. Five of the Reynolds plants are at Louisville, two at Richmond and two at Sheffield.

Eddie R. Stahl, president of the Aluminum Workers Union, said the main issues in dispute were job security and protection against displacement by automation. The union has lost 5,000 members in the last three years because of plant automation, he said.

Jackie Going Abroad
WASHINGTON (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy and her daughter, Caroline, will leave Tuesday for a two-week vacation in Italy.

LIFE is not a bed of roses for any flower show chairman, but Mrs. Herman Porter really put in a strenuous day Tuesday. She arrived at the coliseum to find the tables on which exhibits were to be placed piled high with lumber.

WHILE Mrs. Porter was removing the lumber and starting to cover tables with burlap, the exhibitors started arriving. That was at 8:45 a. m.

MRS. PORTER admitted she was a tiny bit tucked out but she was planning on preparing on preparing chickens for the grange dinner Wednesday.

GRANGERS are really in clover this year. They are serving meals in the new grange and 4-H building which has a magnificent kitchen.

WE ASKED if any notables had showed up for dinner such as Gov. Michael DiSalle. Mrs. Wayne Luckhart said that Salt Creek Valley grangers were so busy at noon they did not have a chance to look up and see whom they were serving.

ONE BY-STANDER said he did not know whether or not the governor was there, but at least one notable attended the fair Tuesday. That was Larry Best, former Pickaway County Extension agent.

LEORA SAYRE was taking in the flower show Tuesday. She was home demonstration agent about the same time Larry Best was here. So we'd say that at least two notables attended the Fair Tuesday.

CARL BURGER seems to be a school superintendent of many talents. It wasn't too long ago he distinguished himself as a fearless rider in the Logan Elm Donkey basketball contest. Tuesday he was cooking hamburgers and serving lunch at the Logan Elm Booster chow house down near the race track.

KIDS wouldn't have any fun during the Fair if it were not for all the monkey business that goes on. But Linda Fischer and Elaine Judy found themselves in a real pickle. While they were modeling their 4-H costumes, somebody swiped their clothes.

ANN LUCKHART said the Salt Creek Juvenile Grange had some beautiful brownies on display in their booth. The brownies proved too tempting — every last one disappeared. Mice of course!

WANTED! A spinner! Elizabeth Blaney who was to have demonstrated the art of spinning Tuesday came down with a virus. So the Historical Society people were on the look out for a substitute.

MISS DEHL RENICK was demonstrating the craft of candlemaking for the Historical Society Tuesday. She was working in the baked goods section.

MISS RENICK showed how candles could be made from molds and also dipped. The dipped candles were prettiest. But Miss Renick said it came easier when you make candles 12 at a time.

SHE LEARNED this craft at Miami University in Oxford.

WE FORGOT to ask Miss Renick how come the university was

Pickaway Unit Talent Winner

Royal Pair To Reign
For Remainder of Show

Two handsome and attractive Pickaway County youngsters today rule as King and Queen of the Pickaway County Fair.

Assuming the role of King is Gene Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Long, Route 1, Williamsport. His lovely Queen is Linda Trimmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Trimmer, Route 4.

The radiant youngsters were chosen last night during the annual King and Queen contest at the Grandstand where a large crowd of spectators assembled to view some keen competition. Serving as judges were Robert H. Huffer, Richard Davis, Ned Dresbach, Gene Fullen of TV fame and a representative for the Noni Modeling Agency in Columbus.

Jerry Rasor of Commercial Point, former TV personality and current candidate for the District Representative seat in Congress was master of ceremonies for both the King and Queen event and the Talent contest.

RUNNERSUP for the King and Queen honors were Rick Fenstermaker and Cathy Courtright. All judges agreed the final decision was a hard one to make.

Miss Trimmer is a 15-year-old lovely with brown eyes and brown hair. She will be a sophomore at Logan Elm High School this fall where she is a cheerleader.

The new Queen has been prominent in 4-H Junior leadership, and has served as president for two years in her Buttons and Bowls 4-H Club.

The popular miss placed third in the state at this year's Knights of Pythias speech contest.

King Long, 16, is a senior at Monroe Twp. High School. He is vice president of the Future Farmers of Monroe. He is a member of the Junior Fair Board.

An additional honor came this year when he was named a Pickaway County delegate to Boys State at Ohio University.

THE NEW King and Queen succeed David McDonald of Circleville and Carol Torchick of Logan who served as last year's reigning royalty. The crowns were exchanged last night.

Debbie Young, Patty Dumm and Connie Wright, representing Pickaway Twp. 4-H Clubs, combined to present the No. 1 performance in the Talent contest. Their act was named "The Little Space Girl."

Second place went to Becky Alkire for her pantomime of "Wrap Your Troubles in Dreams." She is

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—"Hi daddy."

Those were the first words of a 16-year-old sleeping beauty, Linda Sue Calvert, when she woke up from a 13-month sleep.

Tax Revision Bill Offered

Committee Version Disliked by Byrd

WASHINGTON (AP)—After weeks of hearings, the Senate Finance Committee has approved a revised version of President Kennedy's tax revision bill. But Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said he would carry to the floor his fight against its key provision.

The Virginian said today he would try to knock out the investment credit provision, designed as an incentive to American business to modernize its machinery and equipment.

Byrd plans to use as one of his main arguments the contention that the bill as it cleared the committee will cost the Treasury an estimated $750 million a year.

As it passed the House, the bill was figured to provide a $120 million surplus.

Byrd passed his vote as the committee approved the bill 9-2 Tuesday after struggling with it through hearings and executive sessions since April 2.

Administration Senate leaders have said they may hold up the tax measure until the President decides whether to seek a cut in personal income tax rates this session.

Byrd succeeded during his committee's consideration of the bill in knocking out the biggest revenue-producing provision in it—a tax withholding plan on dividends and interest.

The Treasury had estimated this would pick up at least $650 million in taxes.

The administration's chances of restoring this on the floor appeared slim.

The committee also softened the President's proposals to tighten up on the expense account deductions and to increase levies sharply on foreign incomes of U.S. corporations. Kennedy's backers believe they have a chance to win stiffer provisions in a floor fight.

Algeria Chiefs Hint Accord

ALGIERS (AP)—Three of Algeria's feuding politicians—one just back from military arrest—conferred today in the former French administrative headquarters in an effort to patch up their dispute.

Deputy Premier Mohammed Boudiaf, released by guerrilla troops who had held him in eastern Algeria for 24 hours, joined Deputy Premier Belkacem Krim to meet Mohammed Khider, a special envoy of dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella.

They talked for three hours in what Khider called an atmosphere of "understanding, serenity and fraternity" and emerged beaming. They hinted the political crisis was coming to an end.

Davis Demons Set For Two Fair Shows

The Davis Demons, popular Circleville Drum Corps unit, has scheduled two appearances at the Pickaway County Fair.

The drum specialists, all local talent, will perform Thursday and Saturday in the Grandstand area. The precision exercises will start at 7:30 both evenings.

John Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis, heads the unit. Other members are Larry E. Carr, Granville Jones, Ed Evans, Brandon Hawkes, Mike Lorentz, Mike O'Donnell, Robert Stout and Donald Phifer.

Brian Bell serves as drum major. The fast-moving corps has been practicing most of the summer.

test policy conferences for late this afternoon at the White House. He will go into that meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other top policy advisers immediately after his news conference.

The meeting was expected to produce decisions on U.S. moves in the nuclear test negotiations being carried on at the 17-nation Geneva disarmament conference.

The United States has substantially completed its series of atmospheric and high altitude tests over the central Pacific which began last spring. Underground tests begun earlier have been continued in Nevada.

The Soviet government, which resumed testing late last year after a worldwide moratorium of almost three years, has announced its intention to hold a new round of nuclear experiments.

Policy problems before the President and his advisers were authoritatively reported to fall into two groups.

First there are the problems growing out of new scientific advances in the detection and identification of underground nuclear explosions such as would be prohibited by a treaty ban on all nuclear weapons tests.

The United States is expected to present the new scientific data at the disarmament conference and find out whether Russia will agree to negotiate on an inspection on Soviet territory. The Soviet Union has opposed such inspection.

The other problems grow out of this Soviet rejection of inspection proposals. A general review of U.S. policy has led some officials to ask whether it would not be advisable to try for a partial test ban if a total treaty prohibition continues to prove unobtainable.

38 Persons Said Given Thalidomide

NEW YORK (AP)—The City Health Department says it has obtained the names of 38 persons, at least 17 from outside the city, who were issued thalidomide pills by a dozen doctors here. None was publicly identified.

One of the persons lives in Canton, Ohio; another is from Columbus, Ohio.

The department said Tuesday it had located one woman in her 50s who still had 14 of the suspected child-deforming pills. Another woman, in her 70s, had used a small amount of the pills but has none left, the department said.

Ten of the persons who were given the drug are patients of Dr. Richard H. Hoffman, a Park Avenue psychiatrist. One of those patients subsequently gave birth to a deformed child which lived only about 40 minutes. Nine of the Hoffmann patients lived in New York, but one has moved, and the 10th is the one now living in Canton, Ohio.

The other 28 names were given to the department by some dozen New York doctors who received the drug for experimental usage.

Of the 28, 12 lived in this city and 16 were from outside the city including the Columbus man. The department was able to immediately contact only 5 of the 12 New Yorkers.

Monkeys, Hamsters Take Balloon Ride

MOFFETT FIELD, Calif. (AP)—The United States launched a huge balloon today with two monkeys and two hamsters aboard in an effort to determine the effects of cosmic rays on the animals.

A spokesman at the Ames Research Center here said the 380-foot high balloon carried a 450-pound payload on a planned 54-hour flight from Goose Bay, Labrador, to Edmonton, Alberta.

The balloon is the second in a proposed series of four launchings that are expected to provide basic research on radiation problems applicable to manned space flight.

The payload contained three separate capsules which were to be exposed to about 50 per cent of primary cosmic radiation at 128,000 feet altitude.

Grand Theater Demolition Starts Today

Wrecking bars and sledge hammers were put to use this morning as the demolition of the Grand Theater got under way.

Walter Garner, assistant vice president of The Savings Bank, announced today that contracts were awarded early this morning for leveling of the old building. Work crews started tearing down the building shortly after contracts were signed.

Dr. John Bowers was awarded the contract and according to Garner subcontractors were let to the McFarland Construction Co.

The old Opera House, constructed here in 1888, is being torn down to make way for drive-in banking facilities of The Savings Bank. Customer parking will also be provided at the new location, Garner added.

"The N. Court and Pinckney Street location will house drive-in banking services only," Garner stated. Other banking services will be maintained at the present location.

The contract calls for all work to be completed in five weeks from today. Construction of the new building will begin immediately after the old building is leveled, Garner said.

Preliminary plans for the new building are to be ready within a week. An architect's drawing of the drive-in bank is to be available soon, Garner concluded.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A dispute over automation led to a strike by about 16,000 workers today against the nation's two largest producers of aluminum.

The CIO Aluminum Workers International Union began picketing 10 Aluminum Co. of America plants and 12 Reynolds Aluminum plants at about 12:30 a. m.

The Alcoa plants are at Chillicothe, Ohio, Lancaster, Pa., Cresona, Pa., Warlick, Ind., Lafayette, Ind., Davenport, Iowa, Massena, N.Y., Wenatchee, Wash., Vancouver, Wash., and East St. Louis, Ill.

The Reynolds plants are at St. Louis, Bellwood, Va., Louisville, Ky., Richmond, Va., Massena, N.Y., and Sheffield, Ala. Five of the Reynolds plants are at Louisville, two at Richmond and two at Sheffield.

Eddie R. Stahl, president of the Aluminum Workers Union, said the main issues in dispute were job security and protection against displacement by automation. The union has lost 5,000 members in the last three years because of plant automation, he said.

Jackie Going Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy and her daughter, Caroline, will leave Tuesday for a two-week vacation in Italy.

Midway Memos..

LIFE is not a bed of roses for any flower show chairman, but Mrs. Herman Porter really put in a strenuous day Tuesday. She arrived at the coliseum to find the tables on which exhibits were to be placed piled high with lumber.

WHILE Mrs. Porter was removing the lumber and starting to cover tables with burlap, the exhibitors started arriving. That was at 8:45 a. m.

MRS. PORTER admitted she was a tiny bit tucked out but she was planning on preparing on preparing chickens for the grange dinner Wednesday.

GRANGERS are really in clover this year. They are serving meals in the new grange and 4-H building which has a magnificent kitchen.

WE ASKED if any notables had showed up for dinner such as Gov. Michael DiSalle. Mrs. Wayne Luckhart said that Salt Creek Valley grangers were so busy at noon they did not have a chance to look up and see whom they were serving.

ONE BY-STANDER said he did not know whether or not the governor was there, but at least one notable attended the fair Tuesday. That was Larry Best, former Pickaway County Extension agent.

LEORA SAYRE was taking in the flower show Tuesday. She was home demonstration agent about the same time Larry Best was here. So we'd say that at least two notables attended the Fair Tuesday.

CARL BURGER seems to be a school superintendent of many talents. It wasn't too long ago he distinguished himself as a fearless rider in the Logan Elm Donkey basketball contest. Tuesday he was cooking hamburgers and serving lunch at the Logan Elm Booster chow house down near the race track.

KIDS wouldn't have any fun during the Fair if it were not for all the monkey business that goes on. But Linda Fischer and Elaine Judy found themselves in a real pickle. While they were modeling their 4-H costumes, somebody swiped their clothes.

ANN LUCKHART said the Salt Creek Juvenile Grange had some beautiful brownies on display in their booth. The brownies proved too tempting — every last one disappeared. Mice of course!

WANTED! A spinner! Elizabeth Blaney who was to have demonstrated the art of spinning Tuesday came down with a virus. So the Historical Society people were on the look out for a substitute.

MISS DEHL RENICK was demonstrating the craft of candlemaking for the Historical Society Tuesday. She was working in the baked goods section.

MISS RENICK showed how candles could be made from molds and also dipped. The dipped candles were prettiest. But Miss Renick said it came easier when you make candles 12 at a time.

SHE LEARNED this craft at Miami University in Oxford.

WE FORGOT to ask Miss Renick how come the university was

Faubus Wins Poll Easily

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus, soft-pedaling the integration issue which spread his name around the world, swept to an unprecedented fifth term in Arkansas' Democratic primary Tuesday.

Faubus, who in 1957-58 became a symbol of resistance to the U.S. Supreme Court's desegregation order, said his reelection proved Arkansas does not want an extremist in the governor's chair.

The role of moderate was a new one for Faubus who courted segregationist votes and got them in waves in 1958 and 1960.

In this campaign he handed the segregationist banner to Rep. Dale Alford and pinned an integrationist label on former Gov. Sid McMath. Alford and McMath waged a spirited but meaningless battle for second place among Faubus' five opponents.

Pickaway Unit Talent Winner

Royal Pair To Reign For Remainder of Show

Two handsome and attractive Pickaway County youngsters today rule as King and Queen of the Pickaway County Fair.

Assuming the role of King is Gene Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Long, Route 1, Williamsport. His lovely Queen is Linda Trimmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Trimmer, Route 4.

The radiant youngsters were chosen last night during the annual King and Queen contest at the Grandstand where a large crowd of spectators assembled to view some keen competition. Serving as judges were Robert H. Huffer, Richard Davis, Ned Dresbach, Gene Fullen of TV fame and a representative for the Nomi Modeling Agency in Columbus.

Jerry Rasor of Commercial Point, former TV personality and current candidate for the District Representative seat in Congress was master of ceremonies for both the King and Queen event and the Talent contest.

RUNNERSUP for the King and Queen honors were Rick Fenstermaker and Cathy Courtwright. All judges agreed the final decision was a hard one to make.

Miss Trimmer is a 15-year-old lovely with brown eyes and brown hair. She will be a sophomore at Logan Elm High School this fall where she is a cheerleader.

The new Queen has been prominent in 4-H Junior leadership, and has served as president for two years in her Buttons and Bowls 4-H Club.

The popular miss placed third in the state at this year's Knights of Pythias speech contest.

King Long, 16, is a senior at Monroe Twp. High School. He is vice president of the Future Farmers of Monroe. He is a member of the Junior Fair Board.

An additional honor came this year when he was named a Pickaway County delegate to Boys State at Ohio University.

THE NEW King and Queen succeeded David McDonald of Circleville and Carol Torchick of Logan who served as last year's reigning royalty. The crowns were exchanged last night.

Debbie Young, Patty Dumm and Connie Wright, representing Pickaway Twp. 4-H Clubs, combined to present the No. 1 performance in the Talent contest. Their act was named "The Little Space Girl."

Second place went to Becky Alkire for her pantomime of "Wrap Your Troubles in Dreams." She is WASHINGTON (AP)—James M. Gavin has resigned as ambassador to France. The White House said Gavin's desire to solve some personal and financial problems was the compelling reason for the resignation, rather than any policy differences.

FOUR ARMS TO HUG YOU WITH — Pantomime was at its best during the Junior Fair Talent Show last night in front of the grandstand. A trio of Pickaway Twp. 4-H members got together for this number that won them first place. The pantomimed number was "The Space Girl." (Staff Photo)

THE FRANKFORT Band played in between harness races at the Fair yesterday, and did an excellent job. The bandmen also formed the most enthusiastic rooting section in the grandstands, cheering their favorites on at every lap.

THE OUTGOING king, David McDonald, took full advantage of the last few minutes of his reign last night at the Talent show. He was certainly the envy of every young boy at the fair when he crowned the new Queen, Linda Trimmer, and gave her quite a kiss.

POLITICIANS took full advantage of the talent show last night too, to get in a few timely plugs. Both parties seemed to be well represented in the audience. Maybe this is one of the disadvantages of a democracy.

SHERYL WOOD has come up with the best answer for success of the 1962 Pickaway County Fair heard in this corner. When asked by Jerry Raser, master of ceremonies at the Junior Fair talent show and king and queen contest, what she considered the most exciting thing at the Fair, Sheryl answered very simply "The people."

Fourth spot went to the Future Farmers of Monroe for their presentation of "Come To the Fair." Performing were Kathy Redman, Cheryl Bower, Sherry Bower, Dixie Neff, Carolyn Bailey and Sharon Towler.

Fifth went to the Jackson Jolly Tasters and Basters' Note-A-Belles. They are Linda Minor, Becky Stevenson and Susie Pontius, accompanied by Sally Hines.

Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, was the second president of the National Geographic Society, serving from 1898 to 1904.

Prisoners of Earth

While some scientists have their heads in the clouds planning for future space explorations, a German astronomer cautions that, science fiction to the contrary, man is probably destined to be a prisoner within his solar system.

In an article in Science, a journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Dr. Sebastian von Hoerner presents very plausibly his belief that if intelligent beings exist in other solar systems (and it seems logical that they may), man's only hope of establishing communication with them is through radio signals.

Scientists are more readily accepting the view that life as sophisticated or even more advanced than that of earth probably exists on planets of about 6 per cent of all stars, but not on any of the other planets within our own solar system. The nearest such habitable planet is believed to belong to a solar system about 10 million million miles away, or about 107,000 times the distance from earth to the sun.

Walrus Stew and Boiled Owl

NEW YORK (AP)—Suppose you were having a distinguished Eskimo to dinner, and you found out his favorite dishes were walrus stew and boiled owl.

Would you know how to go about cooking a walrus or boiling an owl?

Or suppose this very important Eskimo hinted that he doted most on bear feet or soured seal liver. Would you know how to prepare these tempting Far Northern delicacies?

The four most popular literary topics today seemingly are dieting, the hydrogen bomb, the Civil War, and cook books of all kinds. Perhaps the perfect title for a best-seller today would be "How to Lose Weight While Cooking the Civil War over a Hydrogen Bomb."

But while the market has been flooded with cook books, the fine old culinary skills found in Arctic Circle igloos have been overlooked completely.

This lack has been remedied by the publication of a small paperbacked cook book of age-old Eskimo recipes. The students of Shish-maref Day School in Shishmaref, Alaska, got the recipes from their mothers.

Eskimo cookery is simplicity itself, and any harried American housewife wanting to fix a quick easy meal for her family might find this recipe for frozen flounders just the answer for her problem:

"After the flounders are caught, let them freeze. Eat as much as you want of it."

That dish has another advantage for budget-minded wives—it cuts down on the gas bill.

Now about that walrus stew: "Cut the walrus in small pieces and also cut up the skin and blubber. Then put them together in the pot to boil. Add salt and water."

As for that boiled owl: "Take feathers off from owl. Throw away feathers. Clean owl and put in cooking pot. Have lots of water in pot. Add salt to taste."

"Most of the people like the bear feet better than the meat," the cook book observes. "We cook them well, add salt. Four feet would take about one teaspoon of Even at the speed of light — 186,000 miles a second — would take a traveler 1,00 years to go one way. But that's not all. He would have to be powered by a power plant weighing no more than 5 grams. This is the weight of 10 paper clips. The power output from this tiny package would have to equal that consumed by a small town.

All of these conditions remain even if the complex technical advancement necessary to put such a trip on the drawing board is ignored. Dr. von Hoerner brushes aside the advanced technology needed as something science has already demonstrated itself capable of developing, but the astronomer does accept the barrier of impossibility.

A distance of this magnitude, requiring many generations to navigate even at the fantastic speed of light, is indeed an effective barrier to personal contact. The challenge to radio contact is equally onerous.

By Hal Boyle

salt. Take them out of the pot and let them get cool. Eat them with seal oil."

To appreciate the taste thrill of soured seal liver requires a palate truly educated to the nuances of Eskimo cooking.

The student who submitted this recipe said:

"Soured seal liver is made in the summertime. Place liver in enamel pot or dish and cover with blubber. Put in a warm place for a few days until sour. Most of the boys and girls don't like it, except the grown-ups and old people. I don't like it either."

The best way to top off a native meal, naturally, is with Eskimo ice cream, made as follows:

"Grate reindeer tallow into small pieces. Add seal oil slowly while beating with hand. While whipping, continue adding seal oil and water until white and fluffy. Any berries can be added to it."

The cook book was prepared by the students to raise funds for handicapped children. You can get a copy by sending 60 cents to the Alaska Crippled Children's Association at Anchorage, Alaska.

Muslim Movement

By George Sokolsky

A distinction must be made between those Negroes who believe in desecration and those who believe in separation. Desecration means that the Negroes seek the same opportunities as the White Man to education, jobs, living quarters, etc.

The separatist wants the Negro to be separate and distinct. The leading group among the separatists is the Black Muslims of which Elijah Muhammad is the leader.

The Black Muslims do not like to be called Negroes; they refer to themselves as Black. They regard the Black Man as superior to the White Man.

The "Herald-Dispatch," a Negro newspaper, says:

"To say we teach hate is childish. We teach the American Negro that he is the original man. We teach him the truth, which has been hidden from him. We refute the lies his enemies have taught and are teaching him. The American Negro has suffered for four centuries at the hand of the white man more than 300 years in slavery. He has been murdered, branded as a common animal, has seen his father and brothers lynched and hanged from poles; their bodies thrown into the rivers; Negro men in the South castrated."

"The Herald-Dispatch does not believe in integration. We do not believe that it is physically or humanly possible for a nation to integrate with another which considers itself superior."

The Nationalists prefer to be called Black rather than Negro for the following reasons:

"The word 'Negro' implies nothing; it contains no masculine prefix or suffix. Note: in China, a man is referred to as a Chinaman; in Germany as a German; in England, an Englishman; in Ireland, an Irishman. Either the masculine suffix 'an' or the word man is added. Note also that all racial groups are identified by some geographical place on the earth and, even a poodle is more important if it is a 'French Poodle.' The word 'Negro' is nothing but a stigma."

This movement is not to be ignored. It is effectively organized, it is well-financed; it sets goals which to a degree are attainable, such as operating stores, boycotting stores owned by White Men. Its major goal is to establish a separate nation within the United States, taking over two states for this purpose.

Elijah Muhammad, whose true name is Elijah Poole, calls himself the Messenger of Allah and is so recognized by his followers. Ascribing his movement with religion, he said:

"According to the past histories of the major prophets, one comes 2000 years until the end of the World of Sin. Moses came exactly two thousand years after Yakub (the God and Maker of the evil Caucasian race). Jesus came two thousand years after Jesus, fulfilling much of the histories of the Prophets before him; especially Moses, David, Jesus and Muhammad. The man Allah (God) raised up from among the American so-called Negroes in the West will unite his people to Islam with the guidance of Allah with a book of Scripture for his people prepared and written by the fingers of Allah (God)."

Elijah Muhammad is definitely anti-American. This is what he has to say on the subject: "...You own nothing here but the freedom to be a fool for white America. The college-trained Negro clergy, politician and educator knows that there is no future for them under white Christianity. They have neither a country nor a chance to build a civilization for their own people, but yet they refuse to take part with me in the sure program of God for our people—even after watching our success daily..."

Finally, Elijah Muhammad has this to say of himself:

"Allah has sent me as His last Messenger. I am a warrior to my people, the so-called Negroes, to separate themselves from the slave master..."

Movements of this kind cannot be ignored. This particular one is increasing its membership and is attacking the known Negro leadership with greater violence than has heretofore been known, even in the days of Marcus Garvey, the father of Negro nationalism.

Actually what this movement seeks to establish is a state within a state, a minority which will be able to attack the majority on all fronts. The Negro separatist movement is anti-Christian, having accepted Islam, on terms which no Arab can understand.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Darling, you forgot to kiss me good-bye."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

LILLIAN ROTH, starring in "I Can Get It for You Wholesale," says that a story that never failed her in a pinch concerns the elegant lady who boasted, "Look what my friend gave me! An alligator bag! An alligator belt! And these alligator shoes!" "Goodness," exclaimed a bystander. "Your friend must be a philanthropist." "Oh, no," replied the elegant lady. "He's an alligator."

What is the fate of people who give away the solutions to good mystery stories? Vincent Starrett has one answer. Ten years ago an Agatha Christie whodunit called "The Mousetrap" opened in a London theatre. The next day the London Sunday Dispatch in its review revealed the identity of the murderer—a dastardly trick. The producers moaned, "That does us in; we'll close Saturday night." But wait... this isn't what happened at all. Fact is, "The Mousetrap" recently registered its 4,000th performance, and is still packing them in. And the Sunday Dispatch has gone out of business!

The late Stephen Leacock took a dim view of retirement. "Have nothing to do with it," he sternly warned a conclave of Montreal business men. "Retirement is like this, gentlemen. Have you ever been out for a late autumn walk in the closing part of the afternoon, and suddenly looked up to realize that the leaves have practically all gone? And the sun has set and the day gone before you know it—and with that a cold wind blows across the landscape? That's retirement."

Inside You and Yours

DR. BURTON H. FERN, M.D.
Dear Doctor: My 14-month-old niece has only six teeth. Does she need lime tablets like those prescribed just before our baby teething?

Mrs. A. L. (Ohio)
Dear Mrs. L.: Normal babies vary. Some are born with teeth; others have only six at 14 months. Often the stragglers break through the gums all at once. There's no need to worry if your niece is healthy otherwise.

One teaspoonful of lime water U.S.P. in eight ounces of milk doesn't start teething. It helps soothe a cranky, teething child.

Dear Doctor: Can syphilis be cured permanently?

Mrs. Y. R. (Ind.)
Dear Mrs. R.: Giant doses of penicillin—and other antibiotic germ-killers—can cure any syphilis infection. Repeated blood tests can spot any relapse—which more penicillin can usually cure.

But no medicine can repair the ravages of an old syphilis infection, even though the infection is halted. That's why early treatment is important.

Dear Doctor: I've inhaled medicated steam for years. Is this why X-rays now show spots on my lung?

And could this be tuberculosis—which killed my mother when I was two years old?

Mrs. J. O. (Calif.)
Dear Mrs. O.: The reason you are inhaling all that medicated steam—not the steam itself—might be guilty. Those spots could be a healed TB infection which you caught from your mother.

Many children suffer and recover from silent TB. It's nothing to get steamed up about!

Dear Doctor: I've felt dizzy, queasy and unsteady on my feet for the last few weeks. Will this go away?

Mrs. L. J. (Mich.)
Dear Mrs. J.: Possibly—an inner ear infection may trigger temporary "seasickness". Narrowed arteries and nerve disorders may bring on more lasting trouble.

Prescriptions for large doses of nicotinic acid often help. And medicines that speed salt and water out through the kidney can also bring oceans of relief!

Dear Doctor: What would cause a lump in the throat? I can barely swallow.

Mrs. A. G. (Conn.)
Dear Mrs. G.: Infection, scars, tumors, even false teeth caught half-way down can narrow the passage. Nervous tension can leave a lump in anyone's throat—especially young women are especially vulnerable. X-rays and other tests can pinpoint the cause.

Meanwhile, try baby foods, egg-nogs, rich milk drinks or grind regular food in a blender—and drink!

SUING COLLEGE—Mrs. Glenda Wandell Ross (above) is suing the National College of Education for $100,000 and each of four students for $100,000 over a course she flunked. She claims the four coeds told college officials that she cheated during the examination, and as a result, was given a failing grade. The 20-year-old plaintiff recently married an attorney, and he will represent her in suit, in Evanston, Ill.

"AS HIGH AS AN ELEPHANT'S EYE"—The national corn picking competition is set for this field Oct. 12. It's the Fred Heins farm at Grand Island, Neb. That's not Fred, though, it's Marilyn Masters, "Miss Grand Island of 1962." The Clyde Brothers Circus supplied the elephant to measure the tall corn.

Senators Now Grow Bitter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., questioned the veracity of Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana Tuesday in a stormy Senate session over the Kennedy administration's bogged-down communications satellite bill.

Morse, one of the leaders of a filibuster against the measure, said, "I do not believe the majority leader."

At another point Morse challenged the accuracy of a statement by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the Democratic whip, or assistant leader.

At issue was an assertion by Morse that he was denied the right to state why he objected to a unanimous consent request Mansfield made during last week's debate and Mansfield's account of what took place.

When Morse said he didn't believe Mansfield, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, asserted that Morse had put "the veracity of the majority leader at issue" and invoked a Senate rule against reflection on fellow senators.

Mansfield told Dirksen he appreciated but didn't need protection. Bristling with anger, Mansfield added that each senator could form his own judgment as to Morse's accusation.

Earlier, Morse directly disputed an account Humphrey gave of a warning Humphrey made last week that some senators might lose their seats if the Senate doesn't get along with its business.

Morse insisted Humphrey "took the crack at" opponents of the satellite communications bill and suggested they would be in trouble at the polls in November.

In measured tones, Morse said Mansfield and Humphrey are no longer his majority leader and party whip and "I shall never again look to them for any protection of my rights in the Senate."

He said that Mansfield knew "and I charge" that he (Mansfield) "denied my right" to explain his objection to the unanimous consent request.

Mansfield jumped up to say that "the senator from Oregon can charge me with anything he wants to" and read from last week's record, and outlined what he said was the position he took at the time.

It was at this point Morse declared "I don't believe the majority leader."

Things quieted down after that and Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., took over the chores for the filibusterers with the resumption of a speech against the bill.

Prisoners of Earth

While some scientists have their heads in the clouds planning for future space explorations, a German astronomer cautions that, science fiction to the contrary, man is probably destined to be a prisoner within his solar system.

In an article in Science, a journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Dr. Sebastian von Hoerner presents very plausibly his belief that if intelligent beings exist in other solar systems (and it seems logical that they may), man's only hope of establishing communication with them is through radio signals.

Scientists are more readily accepting the view that life as sophisticated or even more advanced than that of earth probably exists on planets of about 6 per cent of all stars, but not on any of the other planets within our own solar system. The nearest such habitable planet is believed to belong to a solar system about 10 million million miles away, or about 107,000 times the distance from earth to the sun.

Even at the speed of light — 186,000 miles a second — would take a traveler 1,00 years to go one way. But that's not all. He would have to be powered by a power plant weighing no more than 5 grams. This is the weight of 10 paper clips. The power output from this tiny package would have to equal that consumed by a small town.

All of these conditions remain even if the complex technical advancement necessary to put such a trip on the drawing board is ignored. Dr. von Hoerner brushes aside the advanced technology needed as something science has already demonstrated itself capable of developing, but the astronomer does accept the barrier of impossibility.

A distance of this magnitude, requiring many generations to navigate even at the fantastic speed of light, is indeed an effective barrier to personal contact. The challenge to radio contact is equally onerous.

Walrus Stew and Boiled Owl

NEW YORK (AP)—Suppose you were having a distinguished Eskimo to dinner, and you found out his favorite dishes were walrus stew and boiled owl.

Would you know how to go about cooking a walrus or boiling an owl?

Or suppose this very important Eskimo hinted that he doted most on bear feet or soured seal liver. Would you know how to prepare these tempting Far Northern delicacies?

The four most popular literary topics today seemingly are dieting, the hydrogen bomb, the Civil War, and cook books of all kinds. Perhaps the perfect title for a best-seller today would be "How to Lose Weight While Cooking the Civil War over a Hydrogen Bomb."

But while the market has been flooded with cook books, the fine old culinary skills found in Arctic Circle igloos have been overlooked completely.

This lack has been remedied by the publication of a small paperbacked cook book of age-old Eskimo recipes. The students of Shish-maref Day School in Shishmaref, Alaska, got the recipes from their mothers.

Eskimo cookery is simplicity itself, and any harried American housewife wanting to fix a quick easy meal for her family might find this recipe for frozen flounders just the answer for her problem:

"After the flounders are caught, let them freeze. Eat as much as you want of it."

That dish has another advantage for budget-minded wives—it cuts down on the gas bill.

Now about that walrus stew: "Cut the walrus in small pieces and also cut up the skin and blubber. Then put them together in the pot to boil. Add salt and water."

As for that boiled owl: "Take feathers off from owl. Throw away feathers. Clean owl and put in cooking pot. Have lots of water in pot. Add salt to taste."

"Most of the people like the bear feet better than the meat," the cook book observes. "We cook them well, add salt. Four feet would take about one teaspoon of salt. Take them out of the pot and let them get cool. Eat them with seal oil."

To appreciate the taste thrill of soured seal liver requires a palate truly educated to the nuances of Eskimo cooking.

The student who submitted this recipe said:

"Soured seal liver is made in the summertime. Place liver in enamel pot or dish and cover with blubber. Put in a warm place for a few days until sour. Most of the boys and girls don't like it, except the grown-ups and old people. I don't like it either."

The best way to top off a native meal, naturally, is with Eskimo ice cream, made as follows:

"Grate reindeer tallow into small pieces. Add seal oil slowly while beating with hand. While whipping, continue adding seal oil and water until white and fluffy. Any berries can be added to it."

The cook book was prepared by the students to raise funds for handicapped children. You can get a copy by sending 60 cents to the Alaska Crippled Children's Association at Anchorage, Alaska.

Muslim Movement

A distinction must be made between those Negroes who believe in desegregation and those who believe in separation. Desegregation means that the Negroes seek the same opportunities as the White Man to education, jobs, living quarters, etc.

The separationist wants the Negro to be separate and distinct. The leading group among the separationists is the Black Muslims of which Elijah Muhammad is the leader.

The Black Muslims do not like to be called Negroes; they refer to themselves as Black. They regard the Black Man as superior to the White Man.

The "Herald-Dispatch," a Negro newspaper, says:

"To say we teach hate is childish. We teach the American Negro that he is the original man. We teach him the truth, which has been hidden from him. We refute the lies his enemies have taught and are teaching him. The American Negro has suffered for four centuries at the hand of the white man more than 300 years in slavery. He has been murdered, branded as a common animal, has seen his father and brothers lynched and hanged from poles; their bodies thrown into the rivers; Negro men in the South castrated. . .

"The Herald-Dispatch does not believe in integration. We do not believe that it is physically or humanly possible for a nation to integrate with another which considers itself superior. . .

The Nationalists prefer to be called Black rather than Negro for the following reasons:

"The word 'Negro' implies nothing; it contains no masculine prefix or suffix. Note: in China, a man is referred to as a Chinaman; in Germany as a German; in England, an Englishman; in Ireland, an Irishman. Either the masculine suffix 'an' or the word man is added. Note also that all racial groups are identified by some geographical place on the earth and, even a poodle is more important if it is a 'French Poodle.' The word 'Negro' is nothing but a stigma. . .

This movement is not to be ignored. It is effectively organized, it is well-financed; it sets goals which to a degree are attainable, such as operating stores, boycotting stores owned by White Men. Its major goal is to establish a separate nation within the United States, taking over two states for this purpose.

Elijah Muhammad, whose true name is Elijah Poole, calls himself the Messenger of Allah and is so recognized by his followers. Ascribing his movement with religion, he said:

"According to the past histories of the major prophets, one comes 2000 years until the end of the World of Sin. Moses came exactly two thousand years after Yakub (the God and Maker of the evil Caucasian race). Jesus came two thousand years after Jesus, fulfilling much of the histories of the Prophets before him; especially Moses, David, Jesus and Muhammad. The man Allah (God) raised up from among the American so-called Negroes in the West will unite his people to Islam with the guidance of Allah with a book of Scripture for his people prepared and written by the fingers of Allah (God). . .

Elijah Muhammad is definitely anti-American. This is what he has to say on the subject:

"...You own nothing here but the freedom to be a fool for white America. The college-trained Negro clergy, politician and educator knows that there is no future for them under white Christianity. They have neither a country nor a chance to build a civilization for their own people, but yet they refuse to take part with me in the sure program of God for our people—even after watching our success daily. . .

Finally, Elijah Muhammad has this to say of himself:

"Allah has sent me as His last Messenger. I am a warner to my people, the so-called Negroes, to separate themselves from the slave master. . .

Movements of this kind cannot be ignored. This particular one is increasing its membership and is attacking the known Negro leadership with greater violence than has heretofore been known, even in the days of Marcus Garvey, the father of Negro nationalism.

Actually what this movement seeks to establish is a state within a state, a minority which will be able to attack the majority on all fronts. The Negro separationist movement is anti-Christian, having accepted Islam, on terms which no Arab can understand.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

LILLIAN ROTH, starring in "I Can Get It for You Wholesale," says that a story that never failed her in a pinch concerns the elegant lady who boasted, "Look what my alligator gave me! An alligator bag! An alligator belt! And these alligator shoes!" "Goodness," exclaimed a bystander. "Your friend must be a philanthropist." "Oh, no," replied the elegant lady. "He's an alligator."

What is the fate of people who give away the solutions to good mystery stories? Vincent Starrett has one answer. Ten years ago an Agatha Christie whodunit called "The Mousetrap" opened in a London theatre. The next day the London Sunday Dispatch in its review revealed the identity of the murderer—a dastardly trick. The producers moaned, "That does us in: we'll close Saturday night." But wait . . . this isn't what happened at all. Fact is, "The Mousetrap" recently registered its 4,000th performance, and is still packing them in. And the Sunday Dispatch has gone out of business!

The late Stephen Leacock took a dim view of retirement. "Have nothing to do with it," he sternly warned a conclave of Montreal business men. "Retirement is like this, gentlemen. Have you ever been out for a late autumn walk in the closing part of the afternoon, and suddenly looked up to realize that the leaves have practically all gone? And the sun has set and the day gone before you know it—and with that a cold wind blows across the landscape? That's retirement."

Inside You and Yours

DR. BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Dear Doctor: My 14-month-old niece has only six teeth. Does she need time tablets like those prescribed just before our baby teething?

Mrs. A. L. (Ohio)

Dear Mrs. L.: Normal babies vary. Some are born with teeth; others have only six at 14 months. Often the stragglers break through the gums all at once. There's no need to worry if your niece is healthy otherwise.

One teaspoonful of lime water U.S.P. in eight ounces of milk doesn't start teething. It helps soothe a cranky, teething child.

Dear Doctor: Can syphilis be cured permanently?

Mrs. G. Y. R. (Ind.)

Dear Mrs. R.: Giant doses of penicillin—and other antibiotic germ-killers—can cure any syphilis infection. Repeated blood tests can spot any relapse—which more penicillin can usually cure. But no medicine can repair the ravages of an old syphilis infection, even though the infection is halted. That's why early treatment is important.

Farm Roundup

Common Mart To Pinch U.S. Poultrymen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The poultry industry is the first major U.S. farm enterprise to feel the pinch of new restrictionist policies of the European Common Market.

The Agriculture Department reports that the price of ready-to-cook broilers — which have been finding an expanding market in western Europe — is expected to rise from 34.8 cents a pound to 42.8 cents in West Germany Aug. 1. This will reflect an increase of 8 cents a pound on the present tariff of 15.9 cents.

The European Common Market area is setting up agricultural policies which will raise tariffs on imports to encourage greater production and trade within the market area.

Members of the common market are Belgium, the Netherlands, France, West Germany, Luxembourg and Italy.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Production of sweet potatoes is becoming a highly specialized farm enterprise.

The Agriculture Department reports that since 1939, production of this crop had dropped from about 1,200,000 to 300,000 farms. During that period, the acreage declined about three-fourths and production about one-half.

It said there has been a sharp decline in demand, associated with increasing urbanization, higher incomes and a general shift away from starchy, high calorie foods.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Imports of grains for seed use have dipped considerably this year, apparently reflecting cutbacks in plantings under surplus control farm programs.

The Agriculture Department reported today that imports this year were 3,444,000 bushels, compared with 5,282,000 last year and 4,702,000 bushels the year before that.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Winter and spring losses cut the number of colonies of honey bees 1 per cent from a year ago.

The Agriculture Department reports the number of colonies on July 1 at 5,480,000, compared with 5,511,000 a year earlier. The honey bee is vitally important as a crop pollinator as well as a producer of honey.

396 Oil Wells Closed In Slant Drill Probe

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Pipeline connections of 61 additional oil wells have been severed by the state as an outgrowth of its slant-hole drilling investigation, the attorney general's office said Monday.

This brought to 396 the number of wells cut off from their market outlets pending checks. The wells have a total daily allowable of 5,653 barrels.

According to the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program, the oxidation of methyl alcohol (wood alcohol) in the body produces formic acid, which can severely damage the optic nerve. This makes methyl alcohol dangerous for consumption. Ethyl alcohol is the type used in alcoholic beverages.

Something for Nothing Ideas

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN
If you enjoy something for nothing — doesn't everyone? — read on and discover some of the free-for-the-using items that come your way almost every day.

Most of them you tote home from the supermarket: in your shopping cart, but some reach you from other sources.

Wondering what we're talking about? Bonus present from manufacturers! They're not gift-wrapped or labeled, but they're presents — and for free — for those who see their possibilities.
Consider a Wedgewood blue plastic bottle that comes filled with fabric softener.

What do you do with the empty bottle? Toss it out? Not if you're a smarty! You can turn these empty plastic bottles into toys.

Two bottles, holes cut in bottoms and joined with an empty thread spool, makes a toy binoculars. One bottle, topped off with a Ping-pong ball, becomes a doll with a Wedgewood-blue plastic dress you can trim with rickrack, lace or sequins.

Paint a big eye on an empty bottle, screw the cap on tight and — presto! — you've a whale of a bathtub toy that will float!

The possibilities are endless once you get around to considering them.

Another free gift that's useful is the empty baby food jar. It's a grand little size to serve a number of purposes.

Paint the caps to match your decor, print your own pretty labels, and use the jars to store spices, raisins, dried parsley or to put up small batches of jams and jellies for yourself or for gift-giving.

The home handyman will also find the jars perfect for storing nuts, bolts and nails.

Plastic spoons that come with one brand of coffee are a challenge, too. They're colorful and nicely-shaped but, aside from measuring coffee, have they any uses?

They sure do!

Fill them with clay, plant them with small sprays of artificial flowers and use them as party place-markers.

String up several on ribbon and make a toy that Baby will enjoy rattling around.

Show some to a little girl and she'll know just what to do with 'em — use them as pans on her toy stove.

Extra wire coat hangers — a bonus from the dry cleaner — needn't crowd the closet. Paint them pretty colors and use them to make mobiles for the baby's room to create individual towel holders for bath.

Even canceled stamps are useful to someone other than a collector.

One artistic friend of ours pastes stamp cut-outs on notepaper to fill in colorfully the amusing monograms and line drawings she creates to make plain paper fancy.

It just goes to prove that something for nothing is easy to find, if you keep your eyes open and use some ingenuity.

CRASH OF JET IS BLAMED ON DYNAMITE PLOT
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board ruled officially today that the May 22 crash of a Continental Airlines jet which took 45 lives near Unionville, Mo., was the result of a dynamite plot.

Summarizing weeks of investigation, the CAB said "evaluation of all the evidence leads logically to the conclusion that a dynamite device was placed in the used towel bin of the right rear lavatory with the express intent to destroy the aircraft."

Making no direct reference to the culprit, the CAB merely said that the Federal Bureau of Investigation was still investigating.

It was reported some weeks ago that the FBI had learned that Thomas G. Doty, 34, of Kansas City, Mo., one of the crash victims, bought some dynamite and about $300,000 of life insurance payable to his wife. He also faced prosecution on charges of armed robbery and concealment of a dangerous weapon. Friends said Doty talked of killing himself rather than face the criminal charges.

Geneva Greenwood Fraley, 34, described as one of Doty's business associates, also was among the victims.

Dear Abby: Styles Do Change — Eventually!

DEAR ABBY: I have a pretty, intelligent, popular, 16-year-old daughter. She frizzes every hair on her head until it stands out like a Fiji Islander's. Then she brushes the top hairs lightly over all that mess and goes off with a bushel basket hair-do. Her hair appears to be falling out and it's lost its luster. This type of hair-do can't be good for the hair, can it? Why then do beauticians, who should know something about the care of hair, encourage hair-dos that ruin the hair?

MRS. A.

DEAR MRS. A.: We are victimized by fashion again. Beauticians don't have a corner on common sense. Everyone knows that hair, in order to be healthy, must be thoroughly and frequently brushed. But there are dollars (as well as sense) involved. The new hair-dos are so intricate that professional combing is necessary almost daily. If this keeps up we'll have a nation of well-heeled hairdressers and bald-headed women.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if you saved for two years to buy a diamond ring for a girl, and then she turned around and married a guy she had known only three weeks? That's what happened to me. When she gave me my ring back, many of my friends told me I was lucky to be rid of her because she was never true to me. I feel so bad I could jump off the bridge. How does a guy get over a sock in the solar plexus like this?

DEAR UNLUCKY: Personally I think you're lucky. Lucky to have found out what kind of a girl she was before you gave her that little round ring that counts. My sympathy goes to the guy she married.

DEAR ABBY: My wife keeps running to doctors because she thinks she has cancer. Every time she feels what she thinks is a "lump," she goes to a doctor and begs him to operate. So far every doctor she has ever gone to has told her that she is 100 per cent all right and she has nothing to worry about. Since January I have paid off nine doctors and they aren't cheap. How can I convince my wife she is all right?

DEAR BROKE: Worrying about whether one has cancer is an illness, too. Send her to another doctor. This time one who deals with emotional problems.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

DEAR ABBY: I have a pretty, intelligent, popular, 16-year-old daughter. She freezes every hair on her head until it stands out like a Fiji Islander's. Then she brushes the top hairs lightly over all that mess and goes off with a bushel basket hair-do. Her hair appears to be falling out and it's lost its luster. This type of hair-do can't be good for the hair, can it? Why then do beauticians, who should know something about the care of hair, encourage hair-dos that ruin the hair?

MRS. A.

DEAR MRS. A.: We are victimized by fashion again. Beauticians don't have a corner on common sense. Everyone knows that hair, in order to be healthy, must be thoroughly and frequently brushed. But there are dollars (as well as sense) involved. The new hair-dos are so intricate that professional combing is necessary almost daily. If this keeps up we'll have a nation of well-heeled hairdressers and bald-headed women.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if you saved for two years to buy a diamond ring for a girl, and then she turned around and married a guy she had known only three weeks? That's what happened to me. When she gave me my ring back, many of my friends told me I was lucky to be rid of her because she was never true to me. I feel so bad I could jump off the bridge. How does a guy get over a sock in the solar plexus like this?

UNLUCKY IN LOVE
DEAR UNLUCKY: Personally I think you're lucky. Lucky to have found out what kind of a girl she was before you gave her that little round ring that counts. My sympathy goes to the guy she married.

DEAR ABBY: My wife keeps running to doctors because she thinks she has cancer. Every time she feels what she thinks is a "lump," she goes to a doctor and begs him to operate. So far every doctor she has ever gone to has told her that she is 100 per cent all right and she has nothing to worry about. Since January I have paid off nine doctors and they aren't cheap. How can I convince my wife she is all right?

BROKE FROM BILLS
DEAR BROKE: Worrying about whether one has cancer is an illness, too. Send her to another doctor. This time one who deals with emotional problems.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Something for Nothing Ideas

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

If you enjoy something for nothing — doesn't everyone? — read on and discover some of the free-for-the-using items that come your way almost every day.

Most of them you tote home from the supermarket in your shopping cart, but some reach you from other sources.

Wondering what we're talking about? Bonus presents from manufacturers? They're not gift-wrapped or labeled, but they're presents — and for free — for those who see their possibilities.

Consider a Wedgewood blue plastic bottle that comes filled with fabric softener.

What do you do with the empty bottle? Toss it out? Not if you're a smarty! You can turn these empty plastic bottles into toys.

Two bottles, holes cut in bottoms and joined with an empty thread spool, makes playtime binoculars.

One bottle, topped off with a Ping-pong ball, becomes a doll with a Wedgewood-blue plastic dress you can trim with rickrack, lace or sequins.

Paint a big eye on an empty bottle, screw the cap on tight and — presto! — you've a whale of a bathtub toy that will float!

The possibilities are endless once you get around to considering them.

Another free gift that's useful is the empty baby food jar. It's a grand little size to serve a number of purposes.

Paint the caps to match your decor, print your own pretty labels, and use the jars to store spices, raisins, dried parsley or to put up small batches of jams and jellies for yourself or for gift-giving.

The home handyman will also find the jars perfect for storing nuts, bolts and nails.

Plastic spoons that come with one brand of coffee are a challenge, too. They're colorful and nicely-shaped but, aside from measuring coffee, have they any uses?

They sure do!

Fill them with clay, plant them with small sprays of artificial flowers and use them as party place-markers.

String up several on ribbon and make a toy that Baby will enjoy rattling around.

Show some to a little girl and she'll know just what to do with 'em — use them as pans on her toy stove.

Extra wire coat hangers — a bonus from the dry cleaner —

needn't crowd the closet. Paint them pretty colors and use them to make mobiles for the baby's room to create individual towel holders for bath.

Even canceled stamps are useful to someone other than a collector.

One artistic friend of ours pastes stamp cut-outs on newspaper to fill in colorfully the amusing monograms and line drawings she creates to make plain paper fancy.

It just goes to prove that something for nothing is easy to find, if you keep your eyes open and use some ingenuity.

Zanuck Hailed by Hollywood As Its Badly-Needed Messiah

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Darryl Zanuck, who never laid any claim to modesty, might well be amazed at the way some folks in Hollywood are hailing him as the messiah to save the bruised and battered movie industry.

Zanuck's ascension to presidency of 20th Century-Fox is seen as a boon for the whole movie business.

"Now we'll start rolling again," enthused one film producer.

Indeed there is much to roll. For in the past months the wheels of the film industry have come perilously close to grinding to a halt. Until recent times Hollywood has generally been blessed with an uncommon amount of luck. But lately the luck—if you want to call it that—has gone sour.

Take MCA, for example. The merger of the aggressive firm and the healthy Universal Pictures operation was hailed as the birth of a new giant that would do great things for the picture business. So what happens? The Justice Department steps in to order breakup of the marriage under anti-merger laws. The courts will decide the issue.

The other luckless elements have been well chronicled... the misbehaving stars... the soaring budgets... the shrinking markets.

No company has had quite the quota of bad luck as 20th Century-Fox. Some of it was self-induced, due to lack of vision and showmanship and failure to adjust to the changing market. But much was plain bum luck.

Trouble started after Zanuck ended his long hold on the production reins at the studio in 1956. His successor was Buddy Adler, an able, well-liked man who continued Zanuck's policies. But he was struck by cancer, and his long illness and death were a severe blow to the impetus of production.

The pace was never regained. Governed from faraway New York, studio policy was pushed in varying directions, none of which proved profitable.

Many big projects failed to pay off. Much money was poured into developing the television branch, but next season will see only one half-hour series being made by the studio.

The huge investment in "Cleopatra"—itself dogged by bad luck and human failures—precluded a normal program of production at the home studio. Talent and picture deals drifted elsewhere.

Sudden death of Jerry Wald was another hard blow. His films had been the backbone of the 20th-Fox product.

Now Zanuck has moved in to try to save the company he helped found in 1935 when he was 33. He is a restless, hard-driving man. His high voice is accustomed to barking commands; he was in his glory re-creating the Normandy invasion for "The Longest Day."

Twice before he saved the big company.

The first time was when he merged his bustling young 20th Century with the tottering Fox empire.

The second time was in the early 1950s when all the film business was suffering the first stages of the television disease. Zanuck took a tip from Cinerama and widened the normal screen to Cinemascope size. His hoopla breathed new life into Hollywood.

He could do it again.

37th Division Training Off On Fast Pace

CAMP GRAYLING, Mich (AP) —Training conducted by Ohio's 37th Infantry Division has gotten off to one of the fastest paces in years.

The nearly 30 regular Army evaluators who grade every facet of the division's training and operation have turned in one of the finest opening reports in the memory of veterans.

In the first two days of training 1,311 areas were inspected and evaluated. In these 641 were graded superior and 702 excellent. Only 35 were satisfactory and no unsatisfactory grades were given.

Several unsatisfactory ratings usually occur in the opening days of the summer training period because mistakes are made in the rush to get into camp, set up a base of operations, move to the field and get training underway.

Rain hampered some operations Sunday and Monday, but Monday night the skies cleared. The temperature dropped to a chilling 39 degrees Tuesday morning, but the sun was shining when the Ohioans rolled out of their tents. During the day the mercury climbed into the high 70s — the warmest since the division arrived here Saturday.

Hamilton Gives New Warning to Cincinnati

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — City Manager Aaron Marsh has warned Cincinnati city officials from taking water from underground sources near Ross.

He said Tuesday a court order would be sought if studies show Cincinnati's withdrawals endangered the water supply of Hamilton and Fairfield. Cincinnati has proposed building a waterworks plant that would be less than a mile from Hamilton and Fairfield.

Former Wife U.S. Defector's Weds Editor

ZELIENOPLE, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Martha Webster, the former wife of an American who defected to Russia in 1959 and recently returned to this country, was married ten days ago, it was learned Tuesday.

The bride's mother, Mrs. E. M. Burrell, confirmed that Martha was married July 21 to William G. Belding, in the English and Evangelical Lutheran Church here. Pastor Paul F. Luebbe performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Webster had divorced her husband, Robert, after he left her and their two young children to live in the Soviet Union. Webster returned last May and said he hoped for a reconciliation with his former wife.

Martha's former husband, Robert Webster, commented, "I wish her the best of luck. I think everything is working out for the best of everyone."

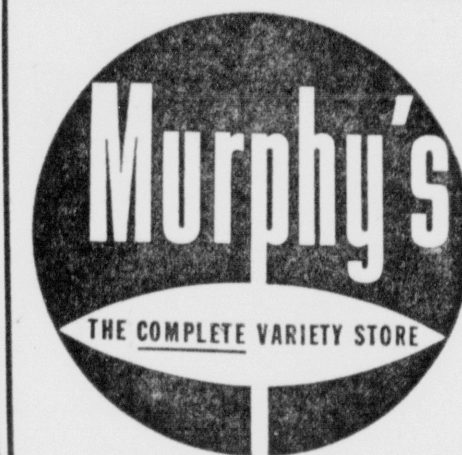

Belding, editor of the Hubbard (Ohio) News, a weekly, formerly worked with a newspaper in Zelenople.

Webster has been unemployed since his return to the United States and has been living at the home of his parents here.

"I'm still looking for a job," he said, adding, "I've had a couple of leads. I just want to do my best for the children (Michael, 11, and Anna, 8.)"

Ohio Proposes Plan To Boom State Potential

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio academic and industrial leaders proposed Tuesday a task force to inform the federal government of the state's potential in the research and development field.

Two dozen Ohioans met with some of the state's members of Congress to discuss solutions to what they feel is the problem of Ohio's being left out of the national picture in the big military contract awards.

"In the transition from conventional military hardware to missile systems, Ohio — which had been heavily committed to the hardware — suffered," said Vice President Gordon Carlson of Ohio State University.

Carlson was named chairman of a committee to set up the task force. The purpose of the task force, according to Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D - Ohio, who called the meeting, is to "make its presentation to agencies of the federal government dealing with research and development."

The federal government, Lausche told newsmen after the morning - long, closed - door session, "is not fully utilizing the potential research and development facilities of Ohio."

Complaining that too much military - contract work is being done on the east and west coasts, Lausche said, "it is in the interest of the national welfare and security that there be a dispersion of the present concentrated assignment of research and development grants on the east and west coasts."

The task force will be drawn from colleges, industry and private and public research and development institutions.

One of its missions, said Lausche, will be to make sure Ohio is well represented on the advisory boards of the National Science Foundation — the boards on which grants are determined.

Lausche said he invited no representatives of the state government to today's session.

"I want to eliminate any political implications," he said.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Skies were mostly clear over Ohio Tuesday night except for some cloudiness in the extreme southeast near the Ohio River.

Cool air continued to dominate the entire state, and by early today temperatures included Columbus 53, Cleveland 52, Zanesville 56 and Cincinnati 58.

At the same time considerable ground fog developed, mostly in the northeast quarter of the state. Little change is indicated on the weather map as a flat high pressure area centered over the Northern Plains will continue to control the Ohio weather today through Thursday. Considerable sunshine is in store for many portions of the state today and Thursday. Clear skies and cool temperatures are expected tonight.

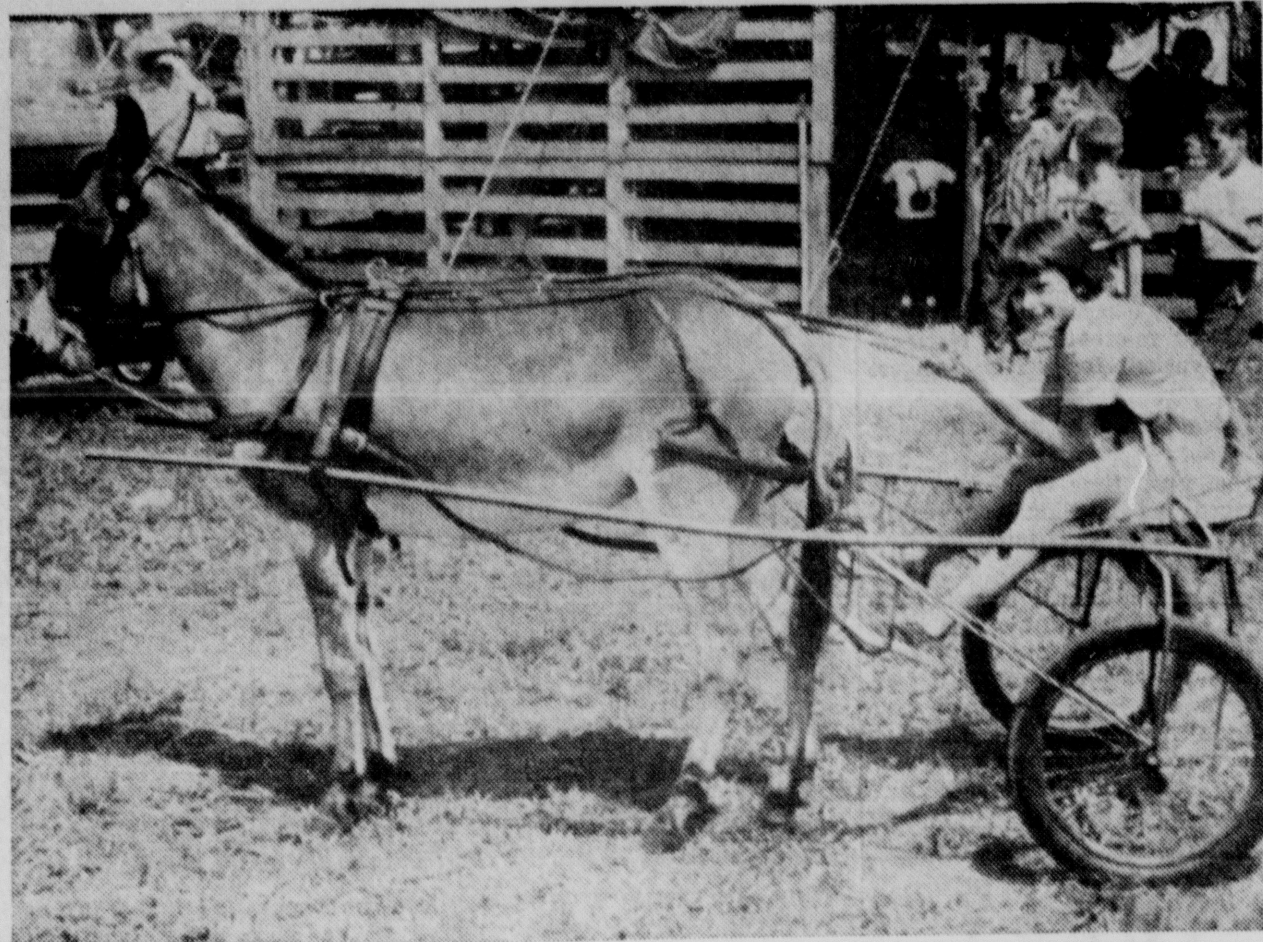

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average four to eight degrees below normal. Minor day-to-day changes. Normal high 80-84, normal low 60-65. Rainfall will average two-tenths to four-tenths of an inch in scattered showers about Friday, again first of week.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average four to eight degrees below normal. Minor day-to-day changes. Normal high 84-87, normal low 62-66. Rainfall will average a fourth of an inch or less in scattered showers over the weekend.

Ohio Turnpike Revenue To Show July Increase

CLEVELAND (AP) — Revenue from the Ohio Turnpike during July apparently will exceed $3,000,000, a gain of about $100,000 compared with the corresponding month of last year, the Turnpike Commission reports. Revenue last month was higher than for any July since the toll road was opened, said Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy.

Red Czechs Offer Haven To Soblen

LONDON (AP) — Communist Czechoslovakia was reported today to have offered Robert A. Soblen refuge but the fate of the runaway Soviet spy rested with the British government.

Home Secretary Henry Brooke is expected to act this week on pleas of Soblen and his friends to grant him political asylum in Britain or let him go to another country.

try to escape a life term in U. S. prison.

Labrite legislator Eric Fletcher disclosed Monday night Czechoslovakia had offered Soblen a haven. There were other reports that Ghana might be willing to grant him asylum.

Brooke, 58, who became home secretary only two weeks ago, was under pressure from several sources to allow the 61-year-old

Lithuanian-born psychiatrist to avoid return to New York.

In addition to considering Soblen's application to remain in Britain, Brooke promised to study a plea by three British legislators to allow Soblen to choose his own destination on compassionate grounds. Soblen suffers from incurable blood cancer.

Should Brooke reject the appeals, Soblen would be returned to Foreign Countries' Rules Governing Abortion Outlined

NEW YORK (AP)—At least five foreign countries permit abortion by physicians to preserve the mother's mental health or to stop her from giving birth to a deformed child.

Following is a list of seven foreign countries where abortion is permitted under various conditions.

The list was supplied from information in the book "Abortion in the United States," edited by Dr.

Mary Steichen Calderone and based on a 1958 conference sponsored by the Planned Parenthood Federation of America.

Japan: A woman merely needs to request an abortion. If medical indications are demanded, it is sufficient that she states she was vomiting because of her pregnancy.

Finland, Norway, Denmark and Sweden permit abortions on three grounds:

1. Medical or therapeutic, to save the life of the mother or preserve her mental or physical well-being.
2. Humanitarian, this includes such criteria as the mother's social position and whether she is married or unmarried.

3. Eugenic, if there is good reason to believe that the child will be deformed or diseased.

Those four countries have boards of experts, both medical and lay, which review the case prior to issuing approval for the operation.

Soviet Union: In the 1920s, abortion was encouraged to some degree especially to free woman for employment. However, in the 1930s a law was passed barring abortions except for strict therapeutic reasons and Izvestia, the government paper, talked about abortion "as an instrument of mass mutilation of women." In 1955, abortion laws were liberalized to some extent.

In England, abortion is prohibited except to save the life of the mother.

U.S. To Keep Its Bases in Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has no intention of withdrawing any land-based missiles from Europe, a Pentagon spokesman said today.

The spokesman replied when asked about a rash of reports from Europe suggesting that the United States was preparing to pull 1,500-mile range Thor and Jupiter ballistic missiles out of Britain, Italy and Turkey.

Cuyahoga Grand Jury Visits State Prisons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Penitentiary here and the Women's Reformatory at Marysville played host to a visiting grand jury Tuesday for the first time in several years. The 16-member Cuyahoga County grand jury made the tour, arranged by its foreman, Cleveland real estate developer Albert Levin.

the custody of the Israeli government-owned El Al airline, and Soblen's fate once again would be in the hands of the Israeli government.

DiSalle Says Assembly Errs Badly in Fund Cut

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle continued his campaign for re-election with a stop here Tuesday in which he rapped the last legislature again. DiSalle charged the Republican-dominated 104th General Assembly erred badly in "rendering the Department of Industrial and Economic Development virtually useless by slashing its appropriations to almost nothing."

The governor said the department, created by the 103rd Democratic-dominated General Assembly, had just begun to make real headway in its work when its budget was cut in half.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Relax the tax?

For weeks Washington has been chewing on a bundle of questions about the idea of cutting taxes to help the economy.

Would it help? There's disagreement. Who should get it—lower income people or those in the higher brackets? Disagreement on that, too.

Will President Kennedy recommend it? He has indicated he might decide about the middle of this month whether to ask an immediate cut or ask one later which would be effective next Jan. 1.

He said he'd have to wait on making up his mind until the economic indicators for July are in.

Even if Kennedy should recommend a cut, would Congress go

Cleveland Airport OK For Runway Expansion

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency has approved a grant of $912,650 for a new taxiway and high-speed jet turnoffs at Cleveland Hopkins Airport.

The taxiway would serve the 9,000-foot jet runway at the airport and the parallel instrument runway. Morgan Lauer, airport operations manager, said the federal aid would have to be matched by an equal amount of local funds.

along? At this moment Congress doesn't know.

One thing is sure: If Kennedy does propose a cut, two very conservative southern Democrats—Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia and Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas—will be key figures in any congressional decision.

Earlier this year Kennedy asked Congress to approve a tax revision (not a tax cut) bill he offered. His idea was that it would increase the government's revenue.

The full House passed it in March in a form that would give the Treasury a gain of $120 million in revenue. But, before it could get up to the full Senate for a vote, it had to go through Byrd's Finance Committee.

It came out of there Tuesday on its way to the full Senate but in a form that would cost the government $750 million a year in revenue. So that's up in the air.

Meanwhile Mills' House Ways and Means Committee began hearing, behind closed doors, witnesses testify on what they think of the state of the economy.

These witnesses are from business and labor and some are economists. What Mills' committee thinks of what they say—will be a factor in deciding on a tax cut, if Kennedy suggests it.

Kennedy reportedly has been much concerned with what the reaction of Byrd and Mills might be if he asks for a cut now, since they, because of their jobs as chairmen, are two of the most powerful men in Congress on this question.

And there are some other factors to consider: Would a cut now make the people jittery that the economy must be in rocky shape to require this kind of remedy?

And, this is an important one, suppose Congress cut taxes this year and the economy got worse next year. What remedy would Congress have then?

Ohio Sailplane Sets California Record

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Five sailplane pilots smashed the 374-mile California distance record for soaring Monday. All landed in Utah.

Richard E. Schreder of Bryan, Ohio, was the leader at 477 miles traveled from near here to Cedar City, Utah.

Following him were Richard H. Johnson, Dallas, Tex., and John D. Ryan, Scottsdale, Ariz., 459.5 miles; Graham Thompson, Los Angeles, 419 miles; and Andrew J. Smith, Tecumseh, Mich., 392 miles.

Johnson is the world distance record holder at 535 miles.

Pickaway Grange Report

Members of Star Grange held their annual picnic Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium preceding their regular meeting. The tables were attractive with red, white and blue decorations centered with arrangements of flowers.

Worthy Master Paul Long presided at the meeting and heard the various reports. A "Thank you" note was read from Mrs. Edin Seibel Jr. for flowers received and an appeal for aid was answered. Mrs. Robert Morgan thanked the group for cards and flowers received while she was in the hospital. Mrs. Albert Dennis, one of the oldest members, will observe her 89th birthday today and all members and friends are requested to remember her with a shower of birthday cards. The group voted Mrs. Rinehart and Mr. Boyd Stout as delegate and alternate to the State Convention.

Mrs. Shirley Anderson, cheer committee chairman, reported sending three cards to the sick and sending testaments to the new babies in the grange. Pomona Grange will meet August 10 at the new 4-H and Grange building on the fairgrounds and Logan Elm will be host for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Dowler were present for inspection and gave a few well chosen remarks. He also announced that the State

He Saws Log, Strikes Gold

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—A stream of gold coins poured into the hands of Howard Hodge Monday as he sawed into an old log, and the excitement ran high today in the little village of Rainsboro, 10 miles east of here.

Fifteen $20 coins dating from the late 1700s to the 1890s were reported found by Hodge, a trucker and farmer.

About five years ago Hodge dismantled an old log house and piled the logs on the site. Monday he wanted some wood and went to the pile and began sawing into a log.

Then he struck gold.

The coins had been placed in a hole cut into the log, and this hole covered with a small slab of timber.

Education Opportunity Without Skipping Urged

DELAWARE (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle said Tuesday the state must provide educational opportunity "without skipping in the area labeled by our nation as 'privileged'."

"We must emphasize first the quality of opportunity for the gifted and not gifted as well; for vocational training, for arts and science and for the professions," he said.

Pam Mowery and Mickie Hunt presented a pantomime. Mrs. Paul Dawson gave a reading, "America For Me" and the group sang, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" and several members participated in a ball game with a grange quiz, "How well Do you Know Grange?" The theme of the program was "July in America" and the program booklets represented a base ball.

Slaughter on Highways Heads for All-Time High

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic fatalities during the first half of this year rose to an all-time high, the National Safety Council reports, and predicts that if the trend continues the 1962 toll may reach a record 40,000.

The council said Monday 18,120 persons were killed in traffic accidents of 1962, an increase of 1,210 from the total of 16,910 during the same period a year ago. This was a climb of 7 per cent compared with a rise in traffic of only 5 per cent.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Arthur Deal Jr.
Phone YU 3-6111

The Ashville Community Club played host Monday evening to the helpers of the 4th of July Celebration and their families. A picnic dinner was served by club members to approximately 100 guests and members.

Following the dinner, Bud Glitt, president of the Community Club, thanked everyone for the time and effort put forth in helping with the three-day celebration.

The club commemorated four Ashville residents for their 50 years of service in the Ashville community with beautiful wooden plaques bearing inscriptions of their service. Those honored were Dr. C. J. Rockey, Dr. R. S. Hosler, Tom Acord and William Fisher Sr.

Dr. Rocky was the only one of the group able to attend and receive his award. Mayor Richard bozman accepted the other three awards in behalf of those who couldn't be present.

Following these awards the remainder of the evening was spent playing games with many nice prizes being awarded.

The Ashville Methodist Youth Fellowship held a picnic Sunday at Lake Hope. Twelve members and eight guests were present. Four new members were welcomed into the group. They are Becky Stout, Sarah Cromley, Jim Deal and Gary Rife.

Following a sack lunch at noon, the group held election of officers with Lucy Vause, president, presiding. Elected for the new year were Jim Ridenour, president; Jill Butt, vice president; Jim Deal, secretary; Dick Barr, treasurer; and Becky Stout, recreational leader.

Following the election of officers, the group enjoyed swimming the remainder of the afternoon before returning home.

Attending were Sarah Cromley, Judy Kennedy, Glenda Reinhold, Lucy Vause, Terry Trimble, Phyllis Rife, Jill Butt, Janet Snyder, Peggy McNeal, Janet Steel, Jim Deal, Gary Rife, Mrs. William Snyder and Carl, Rev. and Mrs. William Sherertz and Sylvia, Mrs. Kenneth H. A. and Miss Liz Sark. The latter two are advisers of the group.

The Friendship Circle of the Evangelical United Brethren Church will meet Thursday evening at the usual time at the church.

On Friday evening the Ashville EUB Church will hold a reception in honor of the Rev. John Morgan and his wife. The event will begin with a pot-luck supper at 6:30 p. m. All families of the church are invited.

Plans are being formulated for a Golden Anniversary Celebration in 1965 of the Ashville EUB Church. Persons in the community having historical data of the church that would be of value in the printing of a brochure may contact Mr. and Mrs. Wade Canter, co-chairmen of the historical committee.

Desmar Spangler, 1338 North Bank, Millersport, and a former resident of Ashville, was taken to Newark Hospital Friday after receiving emergency treatment and oxygen at his home when he had difficulty breathing.

He is improving and is expected to be returned to his home this week.

Attorney and Mrs. Fred Puckett are combining a pleasure and business trip to California. They expect to be gone 22 days. They will visit many points of interest in California and attend a convention in San Francisco before returning home. The trip was made by train.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bastian and sons are spending several days this week at Cedar Point vacationing.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rife and family are vacationing this week at Niagara Falls and surrounding territory.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dietz of Akron spent the weekend with their daughter and family, Sgt. and Mrs. William Trimble and children.

Miss Martha Mary Brinker, Mrs. Mary Brinker, Mrs. Stanley Beck, Mrs. Ed Bastian, and Mrs.

Charles Morrison attended the Miss Ohio Pageant at Mansfield Saturday evening.

The Ashville-Harrison Volunteer Fire Department answered a call at 2:30 a. m. Tuesday morning to extinguish a fire in an automobile on Route 23, opposite the Picway Power plant. A station wagon, owned by Reese Monroe, Columbus and driven by John Henry Shaw, Columbus, was destroyed. The blaze was caused by a grease seal leaking in the right rear wheel, causing friction. Loss was set at $800.

The Bastian Funeral Home made the following ambulance runs this past week: July 24 — removed George Williams to University Hospital; July 28 — removed Mrs. Harry Welsh to Mercy Hospital; July 30 — removed Mrs. Maude Nothstene to Grant Hospital and transported Boyd Teegard from doctor's office to his home.

Pat Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Richard, had his tonsils removed Wednesday at Riverside Methodist Hospital.

Air 'Out West' Getting Polluted

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) —The West—particularly the hot, dry deserts of Arizona and the cool mountains of Colorado—once was mecca for thousands suffering respiratory ailments.

They left the crowded cities of the East and Midwest and sought the sparsely populated areas with untainted air.

Communities nurtured by these health seekers began to grow at a phenomenal rate. Now these heavens of health are combating the same force that drove the sick from other parts of the nation.

Take two examples—Denver, surrounded by the snow-covered Rockies, and Phoenix, an oasis in the American desert.

Denver has a growing air pollution problem.

Dr. William F. Spence of the University of Colorado medical school says pulmonary emphysema, a lung disease, is on the increase. Chronic bronchitis has shot upward in the last few years.

Dr. Cyrus W. Anderson, past president of the Colorado Medical Society, says dirty air is aggravating sinus disorders and having a dangerous effect on the lungs.

And the worst is to come. A 1957 survey indicated that within eight years auto exhaust pollution would triple, industrial pollution would increase by a third, and household pollution would be up one fifth.

To battle this condition, Denver has restricted to certain hours burning of trash in home incinerators. The ordinance also prohibits industrial smoke of greater than specified density. But nothing has been done about auto exhaust fumes.

Phoenix is covered with an almost perpetual haze. From the downtown section, famed landmarks such as Camelback Mountain are lost behind the smoky mantle.

The larger counties—primarily Maricopa (Phoenix) and Pima (Tucson)—demanded action. But many smaller counties feared legislative action might be aimed at their copper smelters.

After a one-year delay, Arizona's legislature passed a measure permitting each county to combat air pollution on its own.

A U.S. Public Health Service study reported that Phoenix had the fourth dirtiest air in the nation, although this was disputed by several Arizona sanitary engineers.

The burning of trash has been curtailed in the Phoenix area. More and more streets are being paved to curb dust.

And state health department officials say, "we are only a few years away from nationwide use of suppression devices on all cars to combat exhaust fumes."

Lemnitzer Opposes Single Staff Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer said Tuesday that "I happen not to agree" with the proposal made by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor several years ago that the Joint Chiefs of Staff should be replaced by a single chief of staff.

Lemnitzer, present JCS chairman, was asked what he thought of the idea expressed by Taylor, who later this year will move into Lemnitzer's job from his present post of personal military adviser to President Kennedy.

The question was posed during a question-and-answer session after he had retired as army chief of staff. Taylor was recalled to active duty by Kennedy last year.

Lemnitzer said there had been considerable change since Taylor wrote his book and that "I believe many of the things he advocated have come about."

These changes, Lemnitzer added, include the establishment of closer contact between the civilian heads and the joint chiefs, fostered first by former Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates three years ago.

This was the first time Lemnitzer—who will become commander of U.S. forces in Europe and Allied supreme commander—has spoken out publicly on the subject of Taylor's original opinion about the agency over which Taylor now will preside.

The Ashville Community Club played host Monday evening to the helpers of the 4th of July Celebration and their families. A picnic dinner was served by club members to approximately 100 guests and members.

Following the dinner, Bud Glitt, president of the Community Club, thanked everyone for the time and effort put forth in helping with the three-day celebration.

The club commemorated four Ashville residents for their 50 years of service in the Ashville community with beautiful wooden plaques bearing inscriptions of their service. Those honored were Dr. C. J. Rocky, Dr. R. S. Hosler, Tom Acord and William Fisher Sr.

Dr. Rocky was the only one of the group able to attend and receive his award. Mayor Richard bozman accepted the other three awards in behalf of those who couldn't be present.

Following these awards the remainder of the evening was spent playing games with many nice prizes being awarded.

The Ashville Methodist Youth Fellowship held a picnic Sunday at Lake Hope. Twelve members and eight guests were present. Four new members were welcomed into the group. They are Becky Stout, Sarah Cromley, Jim Deal and Gary Rife.

Following a sack lunch at noon, the group held election of officers with Lucy Vause, president, presiding. Elected for the new year were Jim Ridenour, president; Jill Butt, vice president; Jim Deal, secretary; Dick Barr, treasurer; and Becky Stout, recreational leader.

Following the election of officers, the group enjoyed swimming the remainder of the afternoon before returning home.

Attending were Sarah Cromley, Judy Kennedy, Glenda Reinhold, Lucy Vause, Terry Trimble, Phyllis Rife, Jill Butt, Janet Snyder, Peggy McNeal, Janet Steel, Jim Deal, Gary Rife, Mrs. William Snyder and Carl, Rev. and Mrs. William Sherertz and Sylvia, Mrs. Kenneth Harden and Miss Liz Sark. The latter two are advisers of the group.

The Friendship Circle of the Evangelical United Brethren Church will meet Thursday evening at the usual time at the church.

On Friday evening the Ashville EUB Church will hold a reception in honor of the Rev. John Morgan and his wife. The event will begin with a pot-luck supper at 6:30 p. m. All families of the church are invited.

Plans are being formulated for a Golden Anniversary Celebration in 1965 of the Ashville EUB Church. Persons in the community having historical data of the church that would be of value in the printing of a brochure may contact Mr. and Mrs. Wade Canter, co-chairmen of the historical committee.

Desmar Spangler, 1338 North Bank, Millersport, and a former resident of Ashville, was taken to Newark Hospital Friday after receiving emergency treatment and oxygen at his home when he had difficulty breathing.

He is improving and is expected to be returned to his home this week.

Group Opposes Ohio Blue Law

Proposed Amendment To Be Chief Target

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Formation of a statewide committee of church, farm and business leaders to oppose the state's Sunday-closing laws was announced here Tuesday.

Financed by voluntary contributions, the committee plans to conduct an information campaign to urge local church groups, labor unions, farm and business organizations to vote against the Sunday-closing amendment if it appears on the November ballot.

Five persons have accepted positions on the committee. They are Walter Churchill of Toledo, president, Churchill Markets; H. Glenn Duis of Portsmouth, immediate past president, Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants; Cecil Dunlap of Cleveland, vice president, Ohio AFL-CIO; Frances Kitzky of Strasburg, president, Ohio Council of Churches, and The Rev. Herbert Veler of Columbus, president, Ohio Synod, United Lutheran Church of America.

Representatives of Catholic and farm organizations, and other business and fraternal groups will be announced at a later date.

John C. Mahaney Jr., of Columbus, has taken a leave from the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants to direct the opposition campaign.

He contends the proposed amendment would weaken the present law, and hinder attempts to secure compliance with it.

A group headed by the Lawson Milk Co. has been circulating petitions to get the amendment on the November ballot, but has not yet filed them with the secretary of state.

Fireflies produce their light by the reaction of a substance called luciferin with enzymes and chemicals. Man has yet to learn how fireflies turn on and control their light.

IT'S AN AQUA BOBBER—This new swim pool "toy" invented by Donald Buckhout Jr. of Maumee, O., is called an Aqua Bobber. It's a 14-foot aluminum mast mounted in a 600-pound sphere 5-feet-8 in diameter, made of molded fiberglass and resin, with 2,200 pounds of concrete inside for ballast. The rider climbs steps to the "crow's nest," and by shifting his weight back and forth he can bob himself into the water with a roller coaster sensation. (Central Press)

Leprosy On Increase

Q. Are there many cases of leprosy in this country? How is it transmitted?

A. No. The only regions where leprosy occurs to any appreciable extent are those which have a combination of high humidity and tropical climate. Recent studies in South America and the Orient seem to indicate that leprosy is again on the increase. The method of transmission is a mystery, but so far as is known, all victims become infected before they are five years old. It is almost impossible for an adult to acquire the disease. The bacillus which causes leprosy was discovered by Dr. Hansen and the condition is sometimes referred to as Hansen's disease.

Undulant Fever

Q. Do city people ever contract undulant fever?

A. Yes. The greatest frequency of undulant fever is among packing house workers and veterinarians. The rate among such people is over five times higher than that in farm workers.

Ike Proposes International College

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower proposed Tuesday creation of an international university, with United Nations help, to promote world peace and mutual understanding.

The former president spoke before the 11th assembly of the World Confederation of Organizations of the Teaching Profession.

More than 400 delegates and observers from almost 80 nations heard Eisenhower. He is here on a vacation.

"I should like to suggest one final thought that, as a private citizen and without any authority, I leave before you. It is the possibility of creating an international school as a new and different kind of clearing house for world thinking and teaching and learning in the vast field of human relations," Eisenhower said.

"On the campus of such a college would be gathered an international faculty of scholars whose concern would be objective truth, purged of national and regional bias, hatred and prejudices.

"To procure such a faculty the United Nations General Assembly might want to call upon such organizations as yours for assistance and nominations. Thereby the college would be guarded against seizure by rigid doctrinaires, propagandists and proselytizers.

"Such a world institution would be dedicated to the education of young people, particularly in world history, diplomacy, politics, international communication and teaching."

Across the Baltic from Stockholm, about 10,000 young people were gathered in Helsinki, Finland, for a Communist-inspired world youth festival.

Perhaps with this in mind, Eisenhower said of the proposed university: "Its students numbering possibly two or three thousand could learn, say, in a two-year course, about the things that separate nations and tend to prevent them from living peacefully and securely together."

"The history of humanity in all aspects would be taught, but never any political dogma as a panacea for present or future. I am certain that the men and women who have lived in freedom would be quite content to let truth rather than propaganda plead their cause," he said.

"The student body would, of course, be representative of all nations that might desire to participate, and all nations would be welcome provided only that each would agree that only truth and objectivity have any place in the school curriculum."

Pickaway Harness Fans See Outstanding Speed Program

BY STEVE JONES
Pickaway County harness fans viewed four exciting, well filled races on yesterday's speed program at the County Fairgrounds.

Follow Donnie, winner of the first heat of the first race, was the only horse to come back and win the second leg of its race.

In the first heat, Graham Cracker took an early lead but gave way to Follow Donnie just before the three-quarter pole.

In the second heat Follow Donnie led most of the way, going the half in 1:05.4 and the mile in 2:13.1. Reined by Kenny High, he is owned by Gerald Hartman of Mt. Gilead. The Fred Schaeffer Tire Shop presented the blanket in the first race.

ROD'S CHAMPION, owned and driven by Ray Newhart of Marietta, placed second in both heats. Windale Ruby, third place winner in the first heat, finished fifth in the second heat.

In the second race Dixie Crystal was the trophy winner, going the first heat in 2:11.4 but she gave ground to McKinley Kirk's Good Will in the second heat. Good Will paced the mile in 2:12.2.

Nite Flight, owned and driven by John Berger, Orient, finished second in the first heat and fourth in the second.

Supreme Brownie, owned by Harry C. and Mildred Hughes of Washington C. H. and driven by F. L. Rowe, took the first heat of the 21 - Class pace in 2:07.3 to win the trophy and post the best time of the day.

The pace finished a length ahead of Bold Yankee. In the second heat Chief Billon finished in 2:12.3, beating out Supreme Brownie.

Ivanhoe copped the first heat of the last race, but was scratched for the second heat.

Main Stay, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Russ Herring of South Beloit, Ill., pulled out of third position on the stretch and finished

Jets Win 11th Straight Tilt

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If the Toronto Maple Leafs are looking over their shoulders in the International League race today, it's understandable. The Columbus Jets are coming faster than the speed of sound, heading toward second place in a late-season surge.

The Jets won their 11th straight and finished the month of July with a 22-9 record Tuesday night, beating Rochester 6-0. It was the Jets' 10th straight victory over Rochester and this one did it—dropped the Red Wings down to fourth place and boosted Columbus into third.

Now the second-division dwellers the first half of the season are only 3½ games behind the runner-up Maple Leafs.

Jacksonville beat the Leafs 6-3, Richmond spilled Syracuse 5-1 and Atlanta downed Buffalo 7-5 in the other games Tuesday night.

Bob (Riverboat) Smith pitched the shutout for Columbus, his fourth of the season and eighth victory. Willie Stargell was the big hitter, rapping his 14th homer in the first inning and a two-run triple in the seventh. Dave Vineyard was the loser.

strong to win a closely contested second heat. The 12-year old gelding ran in third position during most of the race.

KOCHHEISER Hardware donated the blanket for the second race, Ankrom lumber for the third and The Savings Bank for the fourth race.

Willie Leist was the announcer at yesterday's races. Phil Mauger, race announcer at Scioto Downs, will be at the mike during today's race card.

Judy Ankrom riding Shadrack was the outrider at yesterday's event.

Today Miss Mary Claire Short, astride Lady Luck, will lead the horses to the post.

7 Teams Left In Legion Tournament

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Seven teams, half the original field, will remain after today's five-game program in the annual state American Legion baseball tournament. Only two of the survivors will carry unseated records into Thursday's play.

The feature games on today's card were slated for 1 p.m. They pitted Steubenville against Columbus Camp Chase and Euclid against Ashtabula. Each of those teams was 2-0 in the double elimination tourney.

This morning's games, among clubs standing 1-1, meant lose-and-out. They paired Bellefontaine vs. Marion, Athens vs. Cincinnati Sycamore and Fairborn vs. Elyria.

In Tuesday afternoon's activity, Steubenville ran its over-all season record to 32 wins in 33 starts by shelling Hudson, last year's runnerup, in a 17-3 rout, while Columbus (20-3 over-all) won its 13th in a row by beating Marion 6-3. Euclid blanked Elyria 8-0 and Ashtabula romped over Bellefontaine 13-1.

Earlier in the day Sycamore had ousted Bridgeport 9-4, Fairborn rallied to spill Archbold 7-6 and Athens nipped Portsmouth 7-6. Bridgeport, Archbold, Portsmouth and Hudson were eliminated.

162-Game Card OK'd by National

CHICAGO (AP)—The National League unanimously approved today a 162-game schedule for the 1963 major league season.

The league's officials, holding a regular session, gave unanimous disapproval to any interleague scheduling as has been proposed by American League sources.

Both major leagues are playing 162 games this season.

President Warren Giles of the National League said that also discussed was a 150-game schedule but it was passed for the 162-game slate. Giles said the schedule next year will be much better from the viewpoint of longer road trips, thus avoiding long travel jumps after comparatively short series.

Good Thing Rules Allow 10 Players

WOODSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—It's a good thing softball rules allow a tenth man—a roaming fielder—to play.

Otherwise W. A. Weddle would face the difficult decision of which of his sons to bench as the 10 brothers meet Woodsfield's No. 1 team in a game here Saturday night.

While the 10 brothers are playing, five sisters and the parents will be cheering from the sidelines.

And the following day the Weddles — parents, sons, daughters, wives, husbands and grandchildren for a total of 72—will have a family reunion.

Redlegs To Add Trio To 'Hall of Fame'

CINCINNATI (AP)—Time turns back tonight for nostalgic Cincinnati baseball fans at Crosley Field.

For the veteran fans in the crowd at the Reds-St. Louis game the key attraction will be another look at former greats like Edd Roush and Bill McKechnie.

The Reds, who have set up their own private hall of fame, plan to add the names of three players at ceremonies tonight — Hughie Critz, Bubbles Hargrave and Ted Kluszewski.

Dickinson shot qualifying rounds of 44-42 for an 88, two strokes off the highest qualifying round. Helwage posted a 51-39.

In the consolation tourney Helwage carded a one over par 66 and Dickinson posted a 67. They both finished in the top ten of the consolation event.

Nearly 150 boys competed in the tournament, won by Alex Antonio who shot a 54 hole total of 224. Jack Meyers of Westerville won the consolation rounds with a six under par 59.

Helwage and Dickinson were accompanied to Toledo by Bob Ransom, chairman of the local Jaycee junior golf program.

IOOF, Second Meet for LL Championship

IOOF defeated Jaycees, 7-3, Monday in a playoff game in League A. of the little league minors.

Both teams finished their schedule with identical 10-3 marks forcing a playoff game. IOOF will meet Second National, winner of League B, in a best of three series starting tonight at 5:15 on the little league diamond at Ted Lewis Park.

Youth Baseball Program officials voted not to uphold a protest by the Blue Ribbon Dairy manager and ruled out the validity of the game played Saturday between Blue Ribbon Dairy and IOOF.

IOOF was awarded the victory and the right to play Jaycees for the League A championship.

Top pitcher in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics was Hillary Bossier of Grambling (La.) College. He posted a 6-1 mark and allowed only three earned runs in 51 innings.

Ashville Draws Bye in BR Major Playoffs

The game scheduled between Third National and Ashville Monday in the Babe Ruth Minors was forfeited to Third National. The win gives Third National the third round championship.

In a drawing held between Ashville, Savings Bank and Third National, Ashville drew a bye. Savings Bank and Third will meet in the best-of-three series starting Thursday.

The winner will play Ashville a best-of-three series for the championship beginning August 9.

Angels Tumble From Perch On Cloud Nine

July 4 AL Leaders Now 6 Games Off Pace After Loss to Tribe

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Angels today made a fond farewell to Cloud 9. The exhilarating ride in the upper strata came to a screeching halt Tuesday night as Cleveland scored a run without a hit in the seventh inning and handed the Angels their fourth loss in five games—their worst slump since the first month of the season.

The Angels, who reached first place in the American League on July 4, lost three of four at Detroit over the weekend and ran into a bunch of re-awakened Indians in the opener of their series at Cleveland.

Home runs by Willie Kirkland and John Romano supplied the punch for the Indians and dropped the Angels six games behind league-leading New York. The Yankees beat Washington 9-5.

In the only other game on the shortened AL program, Baltimore edged third-place Minnesota 8-7, leaving the Twins 6½ games back of first place.

The National League was idle, taking a day off after Monday's all-star game.

Consecutive home runs by Kirkland and Romano in the sixth inning pulled the Indians into a 3-1 lead. The Angels battled back, tying it in the seventh when Gary Bell came on with the bases loaded and gave up a two-run double to Bob Rodgers before pitching out of the jam.

In the bottom half of the inning, Bell came across with the decisive run. He led off with a walk, reached third when pitcher Dan Osinski threw wild on Ty Cline's attempted sacrifice and scored on Tito Francona's grounder. Bell (8-8) held the Angels hitless over the final two innings. Billy Moran stroked four singles for the Angels in a 13-hit attack, but the Indians' six-hit offensive proved more effective. The loss went to Osinski (0-1).

Bill Skowron hit a grand slam homer in the first inning for the Yankees and Elston Howard got a two-run shot in the third, and that proved enough to subdue the Senators. Bill Stafford (9-6), coasting with a 9-1 lead, ran into trouble in the eighth and needed relief help from Rollie Sheldon and Jim Coates.

Claude Osteen (5-8) was charged with the defeat. The Yanks played without Mickey Mantle, who took batting practice but sat the game out with an ailing left knee.

The Orioles jumped on Jackie Collum, 35-year-old veteran left-hander brought up from Vancouver last Friday, for six runs in the fourth inning. A two-run bases loaded single by Jerry Adair and run-scoring singles by Whitey Herzog and Brooks Robinson were the key blows, while two runs came across on a throwing error by Collum and a passed ball.

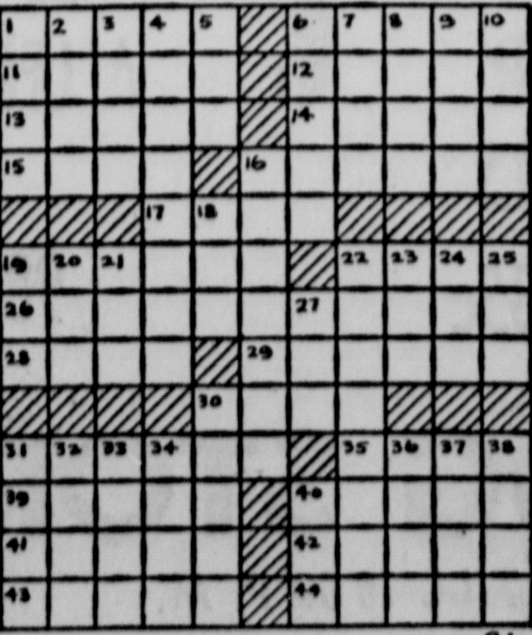

Jack Fisher (3-5) started for Baltimore, but was chased in the eighth when Bob Allison's run-producing single and a three-run homer by Earl Battey brought the Twins within one run, 8-7. Relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm then took over and preserved Fisher's first triumph in a month.

College Stars Lose Halfback

Ernie Davis To Miss Packer Game Friday

CHICAGO (AP)—As if facing the Green Bay Packers, National Football League champions, was not enough, the College All-Stars will have to go into the game Friday night without the services of Ernie Davis.

Davis, the All-America from Syracuse and last year's Heisman Award winner, will miss the game because of a possible case of infectious mononucleosis.

Davis' loss, however, doesn't worry head coach Otto Graham too much. "This is a balanced squad," says Graham, "and we can get along despite losing one man."

Davis may be replaced by Ron Bull, the hard-running back from Baylor who was being groomed as a flanker.

The All-Stars are 19-point underdogs and their victories are few and far between in this series. They have won eight times while the pros boast of 18 victories. Twice the games have ended in ties.

The loss of Davis may not be too great considering the theory that the collegians must pass in order to win.

Nevertheless, Graham has said, "We can run against those Packers if we can get some blocking in front of those runners."

Graham's hopes are bolstered by the fact that he has such runners as Lance Alworth of Arkansas, Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, Earl Gros of Louisiana State, Jim Saxton of Texas, Curtis McClinton of Kansas and LeRoy Jackson of Western Illinois.

In the passing department, the All-Stars will rely on the likes of John Hadl of Kansas, Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State and Bobby Ply of Baylor.

Carry Back Also Ran

NEW YORK (AP) — After 11 straight in-the-money races, Carry Back became an also-ran in the $105,200 Suburban at Aqueduct. Although fourth and last he picked up $5,260 and ran his earnings to $1,014,413.

"Carry Back was only galloping," says Trainer Jack Price. "Why his mile time was 1:37 4-5. In winning the Metropolitan he ran the mile in the track record time of 1:33 1-5. I should have warned Johnny (Jockey Rotz) about the possibility of a slow pace."

Beau Purple beat Kelso in the Suburban, reserving his speed for the last half, and ran the mile and a quarter in 2:00 3-5 a new track record.

Lucas Is Pawn In Pro Cage Fight

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Jerry Lucas became the prize pawn today in the battle between the rival professional basketball leagues.

The Cleveland Pipers, champions of the American Basketball League in the circuit's initial season and rejected Monday on their application bid to become a member of the National Basketball Association, feel they have the inside track on Lucas.

The Pipers and their president, George Steinbrenner, had Lucas' name on a contract to play in the ABL, then to play in the NBA—but now have neither. It is agreed Lucas is under no contract, since the terms of his agreement were not met. He is to confer with Steinbrenner today.

Lucas, regarded as the greatest new box-office attraction in basketball, is being badgered on all sides.

"I've had six calls from all over the country," he said from Columbus Tuesday. "I'm going to listen to them all."

With the Pipers' door to the NBA now closed, the ABL put out the welcome mat for the return of a Cleveland talent. And ABL commissioner Abe Saperstein, who also gets around as head of the Harlem Globetrotters, was hurrying back from Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Saperstein was reported on a mission to meet Lucas, probably Thursday.

Saperstein's opposite number, NBA president Maurice Podoloff, made his pitch to Lucas in a meeting in Columbus Saturday. Lucas said he received an "indirect offer" from the NBA Tuesday.

day. Joe Hradey, a Columbus businessman who has been acting as adviser to Lucas, told of the Saturday meeting.

Podoloff asked Lucas to sign a contract directly with the NBA, Hardy said, and started at $10,000. "Eventually, he was talking in terms of $50,000 and $60,000," Hardy added. "Jerry refused because of his contract with Steinbrenner."

Podoloff then gave Lucas three plane tickets and told him to meet him for a conference in New York Tuesday if the Pipers were turned down. Not long after the Pipers were rejected at the New York meeting, Lucas received a telegram from Podoloff saying the conference was off and asking for the return of the plane tickets.

"I like Cleveland," Lucas said. "I wanted to play there. I'm not saying that I don't know, but at the moment I don't know what I'm going to do."

Lucas originally signed a two-year contract, providing for an estimated $60,000. It included $40,000 in blue-chip stocks.

"We were notified that the stock was being held in escrow in a Cleveland bank," he said. "A later check-up proved it wasn't there." Steinbrenner, struggling to raise money, got a big boost late Tuesday from George McKeon, wealthy California builder who owned the San Francisco Saints in the ABL last season. McKeon said he sent "good faith" money to a bank here to back up the commitment to Lucas.

"We will honor Jerry's contract to the letter if he plays for Cleveland in the ABL," McKeon said from Sacramento.

Angels Tumble From Perch On Cloud Nine

July 4 AL Leaders
Now 6 Games Off Pace
After Loss to Tribe

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Angels today made a fond farewell to Cloud 9. The exhilarating ride in the upper strata came to a screeching halt Tuesday night as Cleveland scored a run without a hit in the seventh inning and handed the Angels their fourth loss in five games—their worst slump since the first month of the season.

The Angels, who reached first place in the American League on July 4, lost three of four at Detroit over the weekend and ran into a bunch of re-awakened Indians in the opener of their series at Cleveland.

Home runs by Willie Kirkland and John Romano supplied the punch for the Indians and dropped the Angels six games behind league-leading New York. The Yankees beat Washington 9-5.

In the only other game on the shortened AL program, Baltimore edged third-place Minnesota 8-7, leaving the Twins 6½ games back of first place.

The National League was idle, taking a day off after Monday's all-star game.

Consecutive home runs by Kirkland and Romano in the sixth inning pulled the Indians into a 3-1 lead. The Angels battled back, tying it in the seventh when Gary Bell came on with the bases loaded and gave up a two-run double to Bob Rodgers before pitching out of the jam.

In the bottom half of the inning, Bell came across with the decisive run. He led off with a walk, reached third when pitcher Dan Osinski threw wild on Ty Cline's attempted sacrifice and scored on Tito Francona's grounder. Bell (8-8) held the Angels hitless over the final two innings. Billy Moran stroked four singles for the Angels in a 13-hit attack, but the Indians' six-hit offensive proved more effective. The loss went to Osinski (0-1).

Bill Skowron hit a grand slam homer in the first inning for the Yankees and Elston Howard got a two-run shot in the third, and that proved enough to subdue the Senators. Bill Stafford (9-6), coasting with a 9-1 lead, ran into trouble in the eighth and needed relief help from Rollie Sheldon and Jim Coates.

Claude Osteen (5-8) was charged with the defeat. The Yanks played without Mickey Mantle, who took batting practice but sat the game out with an ailing left knee.

The Orioles jumped on Jackie Collum, 35-year-old veteran left-hander brought up from Vancouver last Friday, for six runs in the fourth inning. A two-run bases loaded single by Jerry Adair and run-scoring singles by Whitey Herzog and Brooks Robinson were the key blows, while two runs came across on a throwing error by Collum and a passed ball.

Jack Fisher (3-5) started for Baltimore, but was chased in the eighth when Bob Allison's run-producing single and a three-run homer by Earl Battey brought the Twins within one run, 8-7. Relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm then took over and preserved Fisher's first triumph in a month.

Fantasy zinnias stole the show in the specimen division of the Pickaway County Fair flower show on Tuesday.

Mrs. James Jackson, judge, Ewington, stated that she had never seen a class with such excellent specimens as the class of fantasy zinnias.

The flower show this year is staged in the Coliseum and Mrs. Jackson, who has judged the fair shows before, found the new location very much to her liking. She said it was an improvement both for the flowers and the spectators.

There were 129 entries in the specimen division and 51 entries in the arrangement division.

MRS. DONALD Watt won Best-of-Show on her entry in the "Space Travel" class. The arrangement, modern in feeling, was constructed on a large black base. A circular black container was used.

According to Mrs. Watt, the circular container represented the earth; the stones at the base of the three aspidistra leaves, mountains; the leaves, forests and the single sunflower which was the only floral material, the sun.

An interesting piece of weathered wood rose to considerable height above the foliage. And this represented space.

The judge was enthusiastic about the Best-of-Show arrangement and said it rated a grade of 98.

Other winners were: Specimen Division, Class 1, Large flowered zinnias, 3 individual blooms 1st, Miss Eva Fischer 2nd, Helen Schleich 3rd, Mr. Carl Dudleson. Class 2, Zinnias, Fantasy, 3 individual blooms — 1st, Mrs. Roger May 2nd, Mrs. Carl Dudleson, 3rd, Eddie Kreisel.

The district governor was elected a district governor for 1962-63 at Rotary's 53rd annual convention in Los Angeles, Calif., last June. whatever problems they may have and in organizing an effective program for achieving Rotary goals in community betterment, raising the standards of business and professions, and in furthering international understanding.

One of the responsibilities of a Rotary district governor is to supervise the organization of new clubs in his area. Last year, more than 300 new Rotary units were formed in 48 countries, with clubs being organized for the first time in the Bahamas, Haiti, New Caledonia and Zanzibar.

As a Rotary governor, Stecker is serving on a global team headed by Nitish C. Laharry, of Calcutta, India, president of Rotary International.

in studying its safety for man. The number of such doctors has been reported as about 1,200.

Present law, Larrick noted, permits a manufacturer to supply doctors with new drugs for use in such investigations.

Dr. Kelsey, a gray-haired medical officer for the FDA, testified that the American firm applied to the FDA for approval of the drug in September 1960, and that she was assigned to study the application.

She said that after looking over the application, she felt more information was required about whether it would be safe and asked the company to submit further data.

While this material was being assembled, Dr. Kelsey said, she "chanced" to read a letter to the editor of a British medical journal that indicated the German drug was associated with peripheral neuritis.

That led her to further inquiry. Much of her testimony had been outlined by Humphrey.

He said the committee is interested in the chain of events from the time a new drug application for it was received in the United States, Sept. 12, 1960, until it was withdrawn last March 8.

"During this time, supplies of the drug were apparently distributed — for experimental purposes only — to over 1,200 American physicians," he said. "It would appear that the case history of this drug is marked by tragic, avoidable gaps and delays in international communication."

"It would appear that, despite a strong drug regulatory system in the United States, there are serious weaknesses in information and communication on new, experimental drugs," Humphrey said.
